Russians Claim Victory in Air Battle With Japan

Say 25 of 60 Nippon Planes Shot Down at Mongolian Border

6 Weeks of Clashes

MOSCOW (AP)—Dispatches from Mongolian-Soviet troop headquarters in the Mongolian Peoples' Republic described a "stubborn" two-hour aerial battle today near Lake Bor in which 25 of 60 "invading" Japanese planes were shot down.

Tass, official Soviet news agency, said the battle occurred over Mongolian territory in the area of Mongolryba, with 50 Soviet planes repulsing the attack.

"The battle lasted about two hours, was of a stubborn nature and ended in a rout of Japanese aviation, which fled from the place of battle pursued by Soviet-Mongolian fighters up to the area of Konchur," said Tass.

Soviet citizens learned Sunday night that border warfare has been raging for more than six weeks on the frontier between Outer Mongolia and Manchukuo. A radio announcement gave the first specific news of the fighting which, it said, involved men, tanks, airplanes and artillery.

The last time Russia and Japan came to grips in the Far East was at Changkufeng, along the Siberia-Manchukuo-Korea border, last summer. Although the area at issue there was smaller than the territory disputed now, the Changkufeng vest-pocket conflict caused fears of a major war.

Observers—here who have seen scores of Far East frontier incidents flare up and fade noted one factor that may help localize the incident.

That factor is that, technically, Russia and Japan are not fighting. They are striking at each other through states they dominate. These sources said the conflict, therefore, need not spread unless either Moscow or Tokyo decides to force a real showdown.

The Russian communique described a long series of battles beginning May 11 and continuing up to Saturday along the border which Premier-Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov said May 31 would be defended by the Soviet Union "with the same determination as our own."

It said a total of 82 warplanes, 59 of them Japanese—had been shot down up to Saturday.

JAPANESE SCORED

Tass (official Soviet news agency) last night accused the Japanese army and press of circulating false information concerning Mongol losses in the border clashes and about the origin of the trouble.

Tass said fighting started May 11 when Japanese-Manchukuo troops "attacked suddenly" across the frontier at Nomon Kan Burd Obo.

JAPANESE STORY

TOKIO (AP)—Domei (Japanese news agency) said Monday army officials in Manchukuo had reported 131 Soviet Russian warplanes shot down since May 20 in fighting along the troubled outer Mongolia-Manchukuo border.

A Domei dispatch from Hsinking, capital of Manchukuo, quoted a Kwantung army headquarters announcement that 56 Russian planes were brought down last Thursday alone, one on Friday and 15 more Saturday.

THE WEATHER

Three Break From Jail at McBride

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver police said today they had received telephoned advices from British Columbia Police at Prince George that a 19-year-old youth and two juveniles had escaped from the jail at McBride with a rifle and two packsacks.

They escaped by picking the lock on the door of the provincial lockup. Provincial police did not say on what charges the youths were held in their telephoned alarm to local police. The three were: George Clark, 19; Edward F. Strain, 18, and a 17-year-old juvenile.

Scotland Yard Probes Bombings In Which 19 Hurt

Seven Questioned After Series of Blasts In Heart of London

Irish Parade

LONDON (CP)—The daring timing of bomb-throwers whose missiles were fashioned to explode within a few seconds after being thrown, challenged today the ingenuity of Scotland Yard.

Seven men were being questioned at police stations about the series of explosions in the heart of London Saturday night when 19 persons were injured. Two of the wounded still were undergoing hospital treatment today for eye injuries.

Chief Constable Albert Canning, the Scotland Yard official who helped in the arrangements for the police protection of the King and Queen during their Canadian-United States tour, led detectives in a widespread search for Irish Republican Army members suspected of the bombings.

Canning's squad obtained search warrants for more than 100 dwellings.

Demands for release of I.R.A. members under arrest in connection with previous outbreaks were printed on banners carried by Irishmen in parades yesterday past the scene of the Saturday bombings. A anonymous speaker at Trafalgar Square shouted: "The bombs will not stop until English institutions and the English army are taken away from Ireland."

I.R.A. members have been blamed for more than 100 acts of disorders, including bombings, since February.

Four of Saturday night's bombings took place at banks. In addition three bombs went off in Tussaud's waxworks museum, and one in a letter box outside the museum. An unexploded bomb was discovered in a cloakroom of the Oxford Circus underground station.

The first bomb exploded outside the Westminster Bank off Piccadilly Circus. An hour later Lloyd's Bank on the Strand and the Midland Bank in Park Lane.

In the waxworks the bombs used were of the "rubber balloon" type which did little damage.

In the West End police commanded taxicabs and directed traffic from the running boards, while territorials and mounted officers were called out to assist in dealing with traffic jams.

A child, a crippled newspaper vendor, a bus driver and a taxicab driver were among the persons injured.

WINDSHATTERED

Two manholes were blown up in the first explosion, and every window in the bank building was smashed. The front of F. van Raalte and Sons, tobacconists, was shattered, and splinters from the windows and from the glass canopy of a Chinese restaurant flew through the air, injuring several people. Piccadilly Circus was filled with smoke.

The blast, heard two miles away at Vauxhall, was accompanied by a vivid flash. Glasses danced and furniture shook in hotels and restaurants while pedestrians staggered and ran. Diners streamed into the streets, stopping all traffic.

Mass Suicide Attempt

BUCHAREST (CP-Havas)—Thirty-five Czech Jewish refugees threw themselves into the Black Sea today when the steamship Rim left the port of Constanza with 450 Palestine-bound Jewish refugees. The Czechs attempted suicide because there was no room aboard for them. All were rescued.

Plotter Destroy Mail—A blinding flash of flame greeted a London postman when he opened a mail box. This picture was taken just after firemen had arrived. With those plotters still hunted, police today were trying to track down the band which last Saturday night set off a series of bombs in downtown London.

J. A. RICHARDSON DIES IN WINNIPEG

Grain Dealer and Chancellor of Queen's University, Kingston, died suddenly at his home here today.

Winnipeg (CP)—James A. Richardson, widely known grain dealer and chancellor of Queen's University, Kingston, died suddenly at his home here today.

Shortly after he arose this morning, Mr. Richardson suffered an heart attack and collapsed. He was revived, but suffered another attack from which he failed to recover.

LATE J. A. RICHARDSON

His great business activity apparently took toll of a rugged physique. He was not feeling well when he stepped from the train yesterday morning on his way home from the east, but spent more than half an hour talking to persons in the station.

Mr. Richardson, in his 54th year, was one of the leading figures in the western grain trade and also held a prominent place in the field of education. His birthplace was Kingston, Ont., where he received his education.

Besides heading a large grain exporting business, he was a director of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian Bank of Commerce, and was a member of the Canadian committee of the Hudson's Bay Company. He also held directorships in numerous other firms, being president of Canadian Airways Ltd. Branches of James Richardson and Sons extend to the B.C. coast with brokerage offices in Victoria and Vancouver.

Mr. Richardson is survived by two sons and two daughters and the widow, formerly Muriel Sprague, daughter of Mark Sprague of Belleville, Ont. The marriage took place in 1919. (See sketch of Mr. Richardson's career on Page 2).

New Pacific Liners

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP-Reuters)—The Union Steamship Company of New Zealand today announced plans to construct two 25,000-ton ocean liners for the Pacific service. The new ships will have a speed of 22 knots and accommodate 750 passengers. Construction will be started shortly.

Story Untrue Constable's Raft Found On Lake

Passengers Reaching Prince Rupert Gave Report on Prescott Search Continues

A Prince Rupert report that Constable Clifford Prescott of Victoria, of the British Columbia Police, had been drowned while attempting to cross Butedale Lake on a makeshift raft, was traced down and denied by Provincial Police headquarters here today.

Headquarters said the report resulted from hearsay among passengers on a Union Steamship that called at Prince Rupert.

Police said there were no new developments in the search for the missing Victoria officer who has been unreported since last Monday when he left Surf Inlet for Butedale, over a six-mile trail, on rugged Princess Royal Island.

Continuing the search under Staff Sgt. E. Gammon, police reported to headquarters they had found places where small trees were cut on the Butedale Lake shore. They were investigating whether the cut trees had been used to make a raft or as poles to assist in climbing a steep precipice on the shoreline.

No trace of any such raft or any clothes which it is presumed Constable Prescott would have placed on the raft while navigating around the precipice, were found during an exhaustive search of the surrounding waters.

Searchers this afternoon concentrated their efforts on the shorelines, planning to climb over the precipice to determine whether that was the route followed by Prescott.

The constable's footprints were found Saturday where he left the trail to head for the lake, where he was scheduled to meet a boat which would carry him on to Butedale. Apparently he left the trail too early and was faced with the necessity of making the hazardous shoreline journey to reach the spot where he was to be picked up.

Constable Prescott has not been with the Provincial Police long, having been taken on as a probationer a few weeks ago. Although comparatively new in police work he was regarded as an excellent woodsman, fellow officers reporting he showed unusual ability on duty in the woods.

He formerly operated the Broughton Signal Service Station on Broughton Street, and before that was engaged at the service station at the corner of Yates and Blanshard Street.

He is a well-known singer, being a member of the Victoria Operatic Society. His wife and four children reside on Tulip Avenue, Marigold.

Fishing Boat Captain Fined At Port Alberni

Four Others in Court Today for Illegal Barkley Sound Fishing Catch Seized

One fishing boat captain was fined $25 at Port Alberni this morning for an infraction of the fishing regulations in the Barkley Sound area, and four others were to appear before Magistrate W. H. Boothroyd this afternoon on similar charges.

The man convicted was Louis Perich, master of the Izumi No. 6, owned by Nelson Brothers, Vancouver. Magistrate Boothroyd also ordered confiscation of all fish aboard the vessel.

The other four craft involved are the Jessie Island and the B.C. Maid, also owned by Nelson Brothers, and the Walton M. and the New Liverpool, owned by British Columbia Packers, Vancouver.

Charges were laid by the Federal Fisheries Department following the largest seizure of boats and equipment in the Port Alberni area, involving vessels and gear valued at nearly $100,000.

Four of the seized craft are charged with drifting with their seines out for longer than the regulation 20-minute period. The other is charged with tying a net to shore.

BOARDED SATURDAY

The five boats—all large craft—were held here under guard of the Fisheries Department after they were boarded by fisheries officials Saturday and their fishing licenses lifted. The captains were ordered to report at Killdonan, but later were instructed to tie up here. All fish aboard the boats was seized and receipts given the captains.

Small gill-net fishermen have recently been complaining to fisheries officials that large seine boats were breaking the fishing regulations.

Reports here said a fishery guardian watched the activities of the five boats near Sarita Friday morning. One captain said the fishery guardian told him he had drifted with his seine out for 55 minutes.

Scant Change in Pedestrian Flow

Business Locations in City Show Little Difference in Shopping Attraction

Business locations in Victoria most suitable for stores catering to walk-in transactions are virtually the same in popularity today as they were a year ago, according to the results of the city collector-assessor's annual traffic count conducted at 40 points on Saturday.

The volume of pedestrian traffic passing the sites picked out by the department for its check was well up to average on Saturday with a slight gain shown on sections of Fort Street from Broad east to Blanshard.

Two counts were made. One was conducted from 11 until noon, the other from 4 to 5 in the afternoon.

During the morning the southwest corner of Fort and Broad Streets showed the heaviest traffic, 5,021 pedestrians passing. On the northwest corner of Yates and Douglas the number was 3,312, a figure just 75 above that of last year.

The count is made annually to determine the value of certain downtown locations for stores. The popularity shown by various intersections is taken into consideration when assessments are struck, the assessor figuring values on the potential customer attraction at the various sites.

Tientsin Blockade to End When Negotiations Start

British Insist Swatow Open If Japanese Stop Merchant Ships at South China Port Warships Will Be Sent

SHANGHAI (AP)—A Japanese naval spokesman informed British authorities Monday that only one British merchantman weekly would be allowed to enter Swatow harbor.

British authorities instructed their naval officials to press for immediate lifting of all restrictions on Japanese shipping, and said that, if the Japanese refused, British warships would escort merchantmen to and from Swatow. (This was done once last week.)

A British passenger vessel arriving from Tsingtao reported she was delayed four days because coolies, needed to unload the ship, were forced by Japanese to join an anti-British demonstration during which an effigy of Prime Minister Chamberlain, with umbrella, was paraded.

TOKIO (AP)—Domei (Japanese news agency) reported in a dispatch from Swatow that Japanese navy officials had forcibly prevented two British steamships from unloading passengers and freight at the south China port Monday.

The news agency said the vessels, on entering the port, received this notification from the supreme commander of Japan's south China fleet:

"Swatow having become a centre of fresh military operations, Japanese forces are not in a position to permit vessels to embark and disembark passengers or load or unload freight, with the exception of mail and provisions for foreign residents."

After several hours, Domei said, the two vessels departed.

Japanese naval officials announced at Hongkong Sunday that for the present only shipments of foodstuffs would be permitted to enter Swatow, which the Japanese captured last Wednesday.

(The announcement said also that all third power ships desiring to enter the port must give 24 hours' notice and that all would be subject to search.)

The report that the two British ships, not immediately identified, had been turned back at Swatow followed another in Tientsin, where the British and French concessions have been under a Japanese blockade.

Government Will Not Help Men Who Show Defiance, Minister Says

The sit-down strike of 80 single unemployed men at the Elk River Falls forestry camp, on northern Vancouver Island, continued quietly today, while the provincial cabinet, in weekly session, decided to be stern with the men.

Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said summer camps will be closed down just as quickly as the men show any defiance.

The Elk River camps have practically been closed. No government food is being served; the men are apparently being fed by sympathizers in the district. Government equipment will be moved in a day or two. Provincial Police officers are standing by to see no damage is done. The men are quiet, however, and wait patiently for some action by the government.

"We won't stand for this," Mr. Pearson said. "It is defiance of the men of camp authority. We are trying our best to give help to these men. We have thought constantly of their comfort and welfare. But we will have nothing more to do with them if they will not play the game."

The minister said the men were obviously taking instructions from the Relief Project Workers' Union and added "this government will not be dictated to by anyone."

More Protests On Tientsin Searches

But Japanese Not Investigating Disrobing Of British Woman

TIENTSIN (AP)—A Japanese spokesman declared Monday Japan had not and would not investigate reports that a British couple had been forced by Japanese to disrobe in Tientsin because "in principle such a case could not happen."

Major G. A. Herbert, British consul in Tientsin, had charged that a British subject and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Finlay, were undressed and searched before being allowed to cross the Japanese barrier surrounding the blocked British concession here Saturday.

Asked if he could deny the charge, the spokesman answered, "In principle, yes."

Finlay is employed in the International Country Club in Japanese-controlled territory.

DELAYED HOUR

Major Herbert said the couple was returning to the British concession after work and Finlay reported they stood in line for an hour while other foreigners and Chinese passed into the zone.

Then they were taken into one of the "searching" huts which Japanese patrols have established at all barrier entrances, where Finlay reported he was divested of all clothing and examined closely while his wife was forced to watch.

Mrs. Finlay then was placed in charge of a Chinese policeman and taken into an inner room where, he reported, she was forced to undergo a similar examination "within full view of a watching Japanese sentry."

She said she requested the sentry to leave the room, "whereupon he momentarily turned his back, but soon resumed a steady scrutiny of the examination."

When the examination was finished she said she was allowed to dress and emerged to find her husband, garbed only in an undershirt, shoved into the street.

She said Japanese sentries flung his clothing after him and he dressed in full view of a crowd of spectators. The couple were then permitted to enter the concession.

PRESSURE OF NEWS

With the British community shocked by the reported incident, the Japanese apparently were beginning to be concerned by accounts of their activities published abroad.

The army spokesman disclosed the Japanese consul-general, Shigenori Tashiro, had protested to the British consul-general, E. G. Jamieson, "against the handling of news by British newspapers and newspaper agencies, which are exaggerating the importance of small incidents, distorting facts and in some cases fabricating so-called acts of indignity against British subjects."

Japan Agrees to Discuss Settlement Terms With Britain

No More Insults

By J. F. SANDERSON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON — The British and Japanese governments have decided to open negotiations at Tokyo within 48 hours on blockade Tientsin. Sir Robert Craigie, the British ambassador, will represent British interests and Sotomatsu Kato, former Japanese minister to Canada, will lead the Japanese delegation.

The Japanese, it is understood, have agreed to lift the blockade of the British concession soon after the negotiations start. It had been represented to them by the British government that it would be impossible to continue negotiations any length of time while the concession was walled off.

Prime Minister Chamberlain previously had told the House of Commons he was hopeful that negotiations which had already been started by Sir Robert Craigie in preliminary form would lead to settlement of the Tientsin incident, which has stretched Anglo-Japanese relations close to the breaking point.

Meanwhile it is understood the Japanese government has given assurances that insults and indignities to British subjects at the Tientsin barriers will stop.

The Japanese have agreed to settle the Tientsin incident on a local basis without bringing in wider questions of British foreign policy in the Far East.

MUCH ANXIETY

In the Commons the Prime Minister was questioned today by members who obviously were becoming impatient over the indignities British subjects have suffered in the blockade concession.

Mr. Chamberlain asked one or two members who mentioned the possibility of economic reprisals against Japan to restrain themselves so as not to prejudice the conversations now proceeding in Tokyo.

After reference to fresh incidents involving British subjects in Tientsin, the Prime Minister declared:

"Lord Halifax has spoken in the strongest terms to the Japanese ambassador and Sir Robert Craigie at Tokyo has made similar representations to the Minister of Foreign Affairs, with whom he is discussing the present situation in all its aspects."

"I have some reason to hope that this discussion may lead to a settlement of the Tientsin affair and therefore, while insisting that the treatment of British nationals by local Japanese soldiers to which I have referred must cease, I do not want to say anything which would prejudice the prospects of a satisfactory issue with the Japanese government."

The Prime Minister's statement was made after the foreign affairs committee of the cabinet had discussed the Far Eastern incidents.

POLICE SEARCH FOR UNIVERSITY HEAD

Louisianan Disappears After Alleged Financial Irregularities

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Police searched in vain today for Dr. James Smith, president of Louisiana State University, whose sensational disappearance following alleged "financial irregularities" halted, temporarily at least, election of Lieutenant Governor Earl K. Long to the governor's chair.

Governor Richard W. Leche, postponing his scheduled resignation today, ordered Dr. Smith brought immediately before a special grand jury for investigation of irregularities Leche said might total several hundred thousand dollars.

Leche announced Smith's resignation late last night.

Leche and Long later announced the governor's resignation was being withheld, presumably pending clarification of the university situation, although Leche declined to say how long he would stay in office.

Telford May Seek C.C.F. Leadership

Rescinding of Clause
In Constitution Puts
Him Back in Party

VANCOUVER (CP) — Mayor J. Lyle Telford of Vancouver, who resigned from the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation last year, said in an interview today that "so far as I know I am back in the party now," and that probably he would be a candidate for leadership of the C.C.F.'s group of seven in the British Columbia Legislature if he should be nominated.

The annual convention of the British Columbia section of the party was in its fourth day today with the question of appointing a House leader one of the principal business matters before the delegates.

The convention, scheduled for three days, was to have ended last night but a stormy session most of yesterday delayed adjournment.

The convention took two major steps during yesterday's session: 1. Delegates rescinded a year-old clause of the C.C.F.'s provincial constitution barring members from holding more than one elective office at the same time.

2. They reversed an earlier decision of this year's convention, thus giving back to elected representatives of the party the right to hold office on the provincial C.C.F. executive.

Mayor Telford, who resigned from the C.C.F. last year because of the resolution barring dual elective office, put in his first appearance at the convention as the morning session opened.

Already a member of the British Columbia Legislature for Vancouver East, he was unable to continue his party membership when elected mayor, his second office. Action of the convention Sunday left the way open for his readmittance to the party.

Dr. Telford told the Canadian Press as the convention opened that he was assured by members of the executive when he tendered his resignation from the party that rescindment of the resolution barring members from two offices would automatically reinstate him as a C.C.F. member.

"That's the way things stand now," he said. "I'm back in the party to best of my knowledge."

"Yes, I'll probably be in there," Dr. Telford said, when asked if he would allow his name to stand for the party leadership if he were nominated.

The Vancouver mayor left the convention again in 15 minutes without taking any part in discussions.

LEFEAUX RE-ELECTED

The convention, after opening its morning session, began election of additional officers to complete the slate started yesterday with re-election of President W. W. Lefeaux for his third term, and choice of first and second vice-presidents and six executive councillors.

If Dr. Telford is a member of the party again, convention officials said, he must be considered a figure in the party leadership. Before the convention opened, these officials had listed either Harold Winch, member of the Legislature for Vancouver East two-seat riding, or Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, member for North Vancouver, as foremost candidates for the leadership.

Dr. Telford's return would make him, too, a third possible choice for the office.

CAMERON ORGANIZER

Colin Cameron, member for Comox riding on Vancouver Island, was elected party organizer. The organizer was made a full-time paid officer by this year's convention, but Cameron, because he receives a seasonal indemnity, will receive no salary.

George Weaver of New Westminster was elected chairman of the education committee. Mrs. Helen Baxter of Vancouver was elected chairman of the committee on municipal affairs.

STATUS QUESTIONED

As nominations were called for chairman of the speakers and radio committee, Acting Chairman Alfred Hurry of Vancouver, when Mayor Telford's name was read, commented: "Dr. Telford is not a member." His name was struck off, but there were no organized protests from the rear of the hall.

Just before the meeting adjourned, Dan Sullivan, a delegate from Vancouver East, referred to the acting chairman's remark, saying the Vancouver East district council had been informed by President W. W. Lefeaux that Dr. Telford's resignation would have no effect on the two-office clause of the constitution was rescinded.

He moved Dr. Telford be declared a member of the party, but the motion was ruled out of order because the convention had decided to adjourn for luncheon.

On resumption of business,

Angus MacInnis, member of Parliament for Vancouver East, and H. W. Herridge of Nakusp, B.C., were elected to the national council of the C.C.F. on the first ballot. The third member, elected on the second ballot, was Mrs. Dorothy Steeves, member of the British Columbia legislature for North Vancouver.

GOEBBELS SEES NO FEAR IN REICH

Believes Britain Cannot Compete; London Paper Denounces Speech

ESSEN, Germany (AP) — Great Britain "cannot compete with our might," Propaganda Minister Paul Goebbels said Sunday in answer to Prime Minister Chamberlain's appraisal of growing British strength.

Speaking at the closing session of party day, Goebbels took issue with the British leader's statement of Saturday in Cardiff, Wales, reiterated demands for the return of colonies "stolen" from Germany, and enunciated a policy of "he who does not gamble cannot win."

(Mr. Chamberlain declared in Cardiff that "our navy is today the most powerful in the world; our army is daily increasing in numbers and in efficiency of equipment; our air force is unexcelled by the air force of any other country.")

"We wish statesmen would understand our policies," the propaganda minister said.

As Goebbels spoke, other speakers throughout Germany were celebrating the "day of German volkstrum" (consciousness of belonging to the German people) and emphasizing the bonds which hold Germans abroad to the fatherland.

"We have nothing to fear from outside enemies — especially our friend on the other side of the channel," Goebbels said. "Capitulation" is not a part of our vocabulary.

"If it comes to a crisis, our answer is that if our government takes a risk we will follow and are ready also to take a risk."

Goebbels, concentrating his sarcasm on Great Britain, said:

"If they attempt to threaten, that does not matter to us. There is no force behind it. Look at Japan, he said."

"The Japanese strip them naked and they can do nothing."

"Chamberlain said at Cardiff 'We can deal sensibly with sensible men,' he went on. 'That is also our principle.'"

GOEBBELS CONDEMNED

LONDON (CP-Havas) — Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels' "exultation" in Berlin over the indignities experienced by Britons at the hands of the Japanese in Tientsin was condemned today by the London Daily Telegraph. PACT WITH RUSSIA EXPECTED SOON

Britain and France
May Accept Defence
Terms This Week

LONDON (CP) — There is a growing belief Great Britain and France will agree this week to accept the Russian terms for a military alliance linking the three countries and completing the European peace bloc.

In a statement in the Commons today the Prime Minister said the British and French governments were in consultation on the negotiations with Russia.

Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, hoped to send fresh instructions to the British negotiators in Moscow very soon, he said.

GOSSIP WRITER BEATEN AND TARRED

WARRENTON, Va. (AP) — Count Igor Cassini, young writer of a hit-chat column for the Washington Times-Herald, said today he was beaten and threatened with emasculation by five or six young men early Sunday after he dined at the exclusive Warrenton Country Club.

Count Cassini, grandson of a former Russian ambassador to the United States, swore out warrants for Ian Montgomery, Colin Montgomery and Alexander Calvert last night, charging they constituted a mob and committed an assault on him.

Ian Montgomery and Calvert appeared before Justice B. R. Glascock this morning and waived hearing to the September grand jury.

Justice Glascock ordered the two young men, both socially prominent, held in $2,500 bond pending the September court. W. H. Robertson, who appeared as counsel for the pair, waived the hearing for Colin Montgomery, who he said was in Baltimore.

Action by New Zealand

LONDON (CP) — Lord Beaverbrook's London Daily Express said today the New Zealand government may be expected to take a strong line in connection with the incident at Tientsin in which Cecil G. Davis, a New Zealand, was ill-treated by Japanese guards.

"The Japanese might become a menace to New Zealand at any time and a firm line is essential from the outset," the Daily Express added.

WINNIPEG LEADER'S DEATH MOURNED

Late J. A. Richardson
Leaves Friends on
B.C. Coast

The death of James A. Richardson today in Winnipeg brought regret to a circle of friends in Victoria. He had visited the city a number of times in past years.

He was born in Kingston, Ont., August 21, 1885, a son of George A. Richardson and his wife, the former Miss Agnes McCausland. He was educated at Hillcroft Academy. He entered Queen's, where he graduated as a bachelor of Arts in 1906. The same year he entered the firm of James Richardson and Sons, and in 1907 was transferred to take charge of the Toronto office of the firm, where he remained for five years.

In 1912 he was sent to western Canada as vice-president, in charge of western branches, Winnipeg, and during the next six years retained that position.

On the death of Senator H. W. Richardson he was chosen as president of the company, and under his skilful guidance and through the keen business intellect which he displayed, the James Richardson and Sons Company developed into one of the continent's greatest grain exporting organizations, with offices at Kingston, Winnipeg, Calgary, Toronto, Montreal and other places in Canada, and with elevators along the Great Lakes.

On February 1, 1918, he became associated with the Allied Wheat Commission, and at the joint request of the buyer for the allied governments and the eastern Canadian mills, took charge of wheat distribution to the 284 flour mills in eastern Canada. Shortly afterwards he was asked to become vice-president of Wheat Export Company Limited, as second-in-command of the purchasing and forwarding of grain and grain products for the allied governments in Canada.

After he graduated from Queen's University he never forgot, in the stress of duties as head of one of the greatest grain companies in America, his alma mater.

Today the spacious Richardson Memorial Stadium is due mainly to his efforts and his munificence. The stadium, scene of so many stirring rugby battles since 1921, was given to the university by Mr. Richardson in memory of the late Capt. George Taylor Richardson, one of the greatest

Manchukuo Executions

TOKIO (AP) — Ten Chinese and Manchukuo communists were sentenced to death Sunday for fomenting anti-Japanism among Manchukuoans, according to a Domei (Japanese news agency) dispatch from Hsinking, Manchukuo. One hundred and fourteen others were sentenced to prison terms ranging from life to five years. All were arrested March 15, 1938, in widespread raids.

LONDON (CP) — Arthur Cardinal Hinsley, Archbishop of Westminster, yesterday called Saturday night's bombings by terrorists "cowardly and atrocious outrages," and asserted the penalty for Roman Catholics plotting against the church or state was excommunication.

DANCE HALL IN EDMONTON BURNS

Three Shops and Music Studio Destroyed; Loss Put at $55,000

EDMONTON (CP) — The Tivoli dance hall in downtown Edmonton was destroyed by fire early yesterday along with three shops, a dancing school and a music and art school housed in the same building. Estimates place damage at about $55,000.

Starting in the southwest corner of the dance hall, the fire was first noticed about 2 a.m., two hours after it had been vacated by a crowd of Saturday night merry-makers.

Three persons who lived in the building, Robert MacInnis, his wife and their 13-month-old son, escaped without injury, but two firemen received minor injuries.

MacInnis tossed his son from a window into a blanket held 15 feet below by a couple of policemen and some spectators just before the fire engines arrived on the scene. Previously he had thrown down the blanket in preparation for the toss.

When the fire engines pulled up, MacInnis, manager of the Tivoli, and his wife descended to the street by ladders.

In addition to the dance hall, the places of business destroyed were the Spankie Dancing School, the National Institute of Music and Art, a barber shop, a beauty parlor and a hamburger shop.

After shooting sparks high into the air for more than an hour, the fire was brought under control.

U.S. REVEALS NEW HIGH-POWER GUNS

Anti-tank Weapon Pierces 1½-inch Plate; Field Gun Fires 15 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States army yesterday disclosed development of a powerful new anti-tank gun firing a projectile which will penetrate one-and-a-half inch armor plate a half-mile away.

The tank gun was described by Lieutenant-Colonel G. M. Barnes, ordnance engineer. Writing in the military periodical Army Ordnance, he said it was developed as a defence against mass attacks of tanks, such as were employed in the Spanish civil war.

Of 37 millimeter calibre, it weighs 900 pounds and can readily be moved.

Word of the new anti-tank gun followed by a day the lifting of newest and longest-range field gun, a 15-ton weapon that hurls a 100-pound shell 15 miles.

A 155-millimetre, 6-inch, calibre gun, bulky but mobile, it fired a projectile in tests at Fort Bragg, N.C., which traveled about 25,000 yards and blew a hole 16 feet in the ground.

The shot was the longest ever fired from a standard American army field gun, Colonel Ralph McT. Pennell, chairman of the Field Artillery Board, reported.

The weapon, developed by the army's own ordnance experts, has been adopted as standard for long-range artillery fire and an undisclosed number are being turned out now at arsenals. It is mounted on a 10-wheel, pneumatic-tired carriage capable of a top speed of 12 miles an hour.

Col. Pennell said it has a horizontal arc of fire of 360 degrees and a vertical arc from zero to plus 65 degrees.

ITALY TO TEST SWIFT WAR PLAN

Big Summer Manoeuvres Near French Border to Try Lightning Offensive

ROME (AP) — Italy's annual grand manoeuvres along the French frontier late this summer are expected to test the Fascist military principle of swift attack to win a war quickly, according to army experts.

The games, starting August 3, will send the northwestern Army of the Po River rushing across the Peninsula to block a pretended invasion. Foreign commentators have predicted a war between Italy and France would make Italy's Piedmont a battleground in the first engagements.

The Piedmont army from the border country which Premier Mussolini toured late this spring will simulate the attack of an enemy.

The Army of the Po and the Superga Division, which also will participate, are comparatively new military creations. The Po force is entrusted with defence of areas through which the Po flows toward the Adriatic. The Superga Division has headquarters at Turin near the French frontier.

Tank corps and chemical warfare units already have left their home garrisons for training. In addition to the manoeuvres, the mountain artillery drills around Turin and Alexandria, near the French frontier, Bolzano near the Brenner Pass, which leads into the Austrian part of Germany, Udine near the Yugoslav frontier, Bari at the lower end of the Adriatic and in African Libya.

The two Italian naval squadrons are to make separate 15-day training cruises in the Mediterranean in July and, on their return to Italian waters, meet in sham battles.

HEART RESTARTED, BUT WOMAN DIES

LONDON (CP) — A woman's restoration to life for seven days after her "death" under an anaesthetic at the North Middlesex County Hospital was described at an inquest in Edmonton. The woman was Mrs. Dorothy Sarah Stannard of Highgate.

Dr. F. A. Hudson said Mrs. Stannard, 36, was admitted suffering from hemorrhage and because of her nervous condition he decided to carry out an examination under an anaesthetic. After the anaesthetic had been administered she collapsed, but by cardiac massage the heart, which had stopped for some minutes, was restarted and breathing was restored.

The patient was taken back to the ward and appeared to improve, but did not regain consciousness. Seven days later she collapsed and died.

It was known as the Sarah Maxwell Memorial competition and children in all provincial capitals of Canada turned in essays. Gloria obtained material for her essay from the Provincial Library. She was 12 years old and was in grade 8, South Park School, when she wrote her essay of 1,000 words. Second prize went to a Regina student and third prize to one in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island.

CANADIAN COUPLE KILLED IN CHINA

Rev. and Mrs. S. G. Caswell Of Ontario Victims Of Japanese Bombing

ATHENS, Ont. (CP) — Rev. S. G. Caswell of Athens said last night he had received a cablegram informing him his brother, Rev. A. A. Caswell, 64, and the latter's wife, Canadian Holiness Movement missionaries in China, had been killed.

No details were contained in the cablegram, but a report from Chungking, China, said Mr. and Mrs. Caswell had not been reported since Japanese aerial bombs last Friday destroyed the Canadian mission at Changteh, Hunan Province, where they were stationed.

Mr. Caswell and his wife, both of Ottawa, had been in China since 1920. The Athens minister said his brother had visited Ottawa in 1927 and returned to China later. He also had served as a missionary in Egypt and Ireland before going to China.

CHUNGKING, China (CP) — Fear for the safety of Rev. A. A. Caswell and Mrs. Caswell of Ottawa, missionaries of the Canadian Holiness Movement, were expressed in this provisional capital of China today.

The Ottawans have not been reported since Japanese aerial bombs destroyed the Canadian mission at Changteh, Hunan Province, Friday.

Chinese reports reaching Chungking from Changteh said search in the debris for Mr. and Mrs. Caswell and missing Chinese was delayed by continued Japanese bombings Saturday.

The reports said that besides the Canadian Holiness Movement mission several other foreign missions were hit during Friday's bombing. Regularly stationed missionaries at Chungteh include members of the British China Inland Mission and several United States missions.

COST OF HOUSES CUT BY FACTORY

EDMONTON (CP) — Answering a challenge for reduced building costs, a factory has been opened here to make pre-fabricated houses. Operators boast their plant brings a saving of 25 per cent in material, 40 per cent in labor, and can turn out a home, precise to specifications, in two weeks.

Arthur Carlson and Victor Carlson, well-known Edmonton contractors, regard the company — which they call the Magic Home Manufacturing Company — the answer to a challenge recently hurled to the building trade by F. W. Nicholls, housing director of the federal department of finance.

Mr. Nicholls said production costs could be lowered and an impetus given the building trade if Canadian contractors would adopt new methods of building as much of the home as possible in the shop instead of on the home site. And that is just what the Carlsons have done.

The saving, the owners explained, is made possible by the volume of production. Outside walls and inside partitions are made up in sections in the factory. Every piece of material is cut to size, marked and bundled and sent to the home site. There is no waste, skimping or expensive spoilage.

Instead of plaster, interiors of the home are finished in three-ply panelling which offers a base for limitless decorative treatments. Empty spaces between the studs and outside wall are insulated.

Nominate Liberal For Bennett's Seat

Manley J. Edwards Chosen to Contest Calgary West Vacancy

CALGARY (CP) — The Calgary West Federal Liberal Association, at a nomination convention Saturday in preparation for the next Dominion election, named Manley J. Edwards, Calgary barrister, as Liberal candidate.

Mr. Edwards, in accepting the nomination, paid tribute to Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, former Canadian Conservative leader who had held the traditional Calgary West Conservative seat for most of the last 28 years. Mr. Edwards said he knew many Liberals who had voted for Mr. Bennett "because his splendid personality outweighed party."

But now that Mr. Bennett had retired from active politics, Mr. Edwards declared the "Bennett Liberals" would return to their own party and elect a Liberal for the first time in more than 30 years.

Mr. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada from 1930 until October, 1935, was the Conservative member for the constituency from 1911 until 1917, and from 1926 until the end of 1938, when he retired to take up residence in England. The seat is now vacant.

In the intervening years, Joseph T. Shaw, K.C., of Calgary, an Independent, was the only non-Conservative elected. He served from 1921 until 1926.

C. J. Ford, K.C., association chairman, told delegates no one knew when the next federal election would be held.

Prime Minister King had never gone more than four years without submitting to the people the question as to whether to continue in office, and it was reasonable to conclude there would be an election early in the fall, said Mr. Ford.

EPILEPTIC WROTE PEPSYIAN DIARY

'Lancet' Reveals Story Of 'Mr. X,' who Helped Doctors Cure Fits

By GUY E. RHOADES

LONDON (CP) — An elderly, introspective bachelor who suffered from epilepsy has been disclosed as an unsung hero of medical science, but only his doctor knows his name.

"Mr. X," the central character in an article in The Lancet by Sir Arthur Hall, kept a "Pepsyian" diary for 27 years, describing his fits as well as he could remember them and recording the times of their occurrence.

From the diary Sir Arthur, emeritus professor of medicine in the University of Sheffield, was able to build a complete history of one case of epilepsy from the time when "Mr. X" was 37 years old until his death in 1931 at the age of 64.

It started in 1904 when Sir Arthur, treating "Mr. X," suggested a time diary of his attacks might help in deciding the treatment.

"A somewhat introspective bachelor with no outside interests, no hobby and a daily routine of extreme monotony, he took a great interest in his attacks and as the years went on kept it up with Pepsyian faithfulness," Sir Arthur wrote.

So interested did he become, in fact, that he performed several experiments on himself by altering his medicinal doses, observing the consequences and recording them in his diary.

From the record, Sir Arthur concluded: (1) An epileptic man remained free from major fits for 30 years, provided he kept strictly to the treatment prescribed. Minor fits continued during the whole time (27 years) that he was taking bromide, but ceased when this was replaced by phenobarbitone (three years).

(2) Complete prevention of major fits was not obtained by even larger doses of bromide until he abstained completely from alcohol.

(3) A record shows two distinct types of rhythm of minor fits. From 1904 to 1909 they occurred in groups or units of activity with regular intervals of freedom of two to four weeks. From 1909 to 1928 there was no such grouping. The change from one rhythm to the other began in his 46th year of age.

(4) The hourly incidence of minor fits shows a peak in mid-afternoon, tending to move toward the evening in later years. It is suggested that this is connected with the increasing effect of the bromide (taken night and morning) as he got older.

Cut in Outlays Of U.S. Advocated

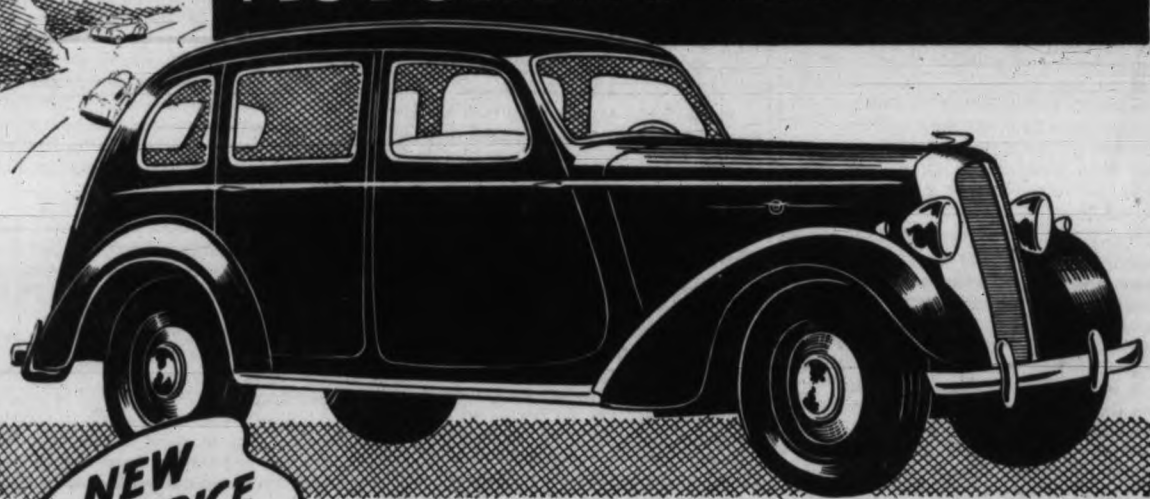

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Republican demand for a $500,000,000 cut in federal expenses was received in Congress today while administration leaders were trying to rush through new relief and farm funds before the fiscal year end Friday night.

Joseph Martin, Republican, Massachusetts, House of Representatives minority leader, completed a bill providing for a 10 per cent reduction in certain appropriations. He excluded such items as "relief of distress," social security, war veterans' benefits and interest on the public debt.

HILLMAN sales are forging ahead in British Columbia because this quality-built British car now makes it possible for thousands of people of moderate income to own and enjoy a motor car.

Because there is no duty on Hillman Cars imported into Canada, and because the Hillman comes by low cost, water-borne freight, you buy at very little over the English price. This means a saving to you right at the start of several hundred dollars. It also means that monthly payments are lower and annual depreciation a great deal less. But this is only the beginning of the saving. Hillman's 40-miles-per-gallon performance means that operating expense is LESS THAN HALF THAT OF AN ORDINARY AUTOMOBILE. You obtain this remarkable saving because of the efficiency of the world-famous 10 h.p. Hillman engine. Nor will you sacrifice anything in appearance, comfort, roominess or driving pleasure when you own a Hillman.

We invite you to see and compare the amazing value offered in the Hillman "10" and you will quickly realize why so many hundreds of British Columbians are now Hillman owners.

Reason Dawns Over Tokio

BRITAIN'S BLUNT WARNING TO Japan seems to have borne fruit. Within 48 hours negotiations are to be opened in Tokio in connection with the blockade of Tientsin. Sir Robert Craigie, the British Ambassador, will have charge of Britain's case and Sotomatsu Kato, former Japanese minister to Canada, will represent the Tokio government. One of the conditions of the conversations appears to be that the "walls" from the British concession shall be removed as the pourparlers get under way.

Although British patience has been sorely tried during the last few days, with strong language used by Downing Street in its communications to Tokio, it will be much more satisfactory if this delicate and dangerous situation can be cleared up without further risks of action which might lead to a general disturbance between Japan and Britain—with the possibility of embroiling France and the United States. Prime Minister Chamberlain's plan has been to localize the issue and, if possible, settle it as such. The nature of the negotiations about to be begun and the spirit in which they are conducted should reveal the extent to which Japan is ready to share the desire of the British government.

It is scarcely likely, however, that Britain's tolerant view of the matter to date, her hesitancy to resort to strong measures until all other means had been exhausted, presage any further concessions. The British public, while naturally hating the idea of a conflict in the Orient to add to its still serious worries nearer home, is in no mood to give way before new threats demanding satisfaction of demands which are merely excuses to employ the familiar totalitarian technique.

Tokio's original complaint, to emphasize which the British concession was blockaded nearly two weeks ago, was that the British authorities in Tientsin would not surrender four Chinese nationals whom the Japanese accused of terrorism, including murder, without an impartial consideration of the evidence against them. For this purpose the creation of a three-power commission, with a neutral chairman, was proposed so that all the circumstances might be examined. The Japanese promptly objected to the plan for reasons which were soon to be made plain. To have accepted such a course of procedure would have spoiled the little game the military junta which controls the Japanese government had hoped to play—and no doubt will still try to play.

Extremists in the government sought to use this incident as a pretext for another advertisement for the "new order" which the world at large has been told is to be established in the Orient after China has been effectively subdued. This includes the closing of the "open door" to foreign nations, Japanese domination of the whole of the Chinese market, and, eventually, Japanese control of the Pacific. Unfortunately for Japan, western nations with large interests in China do not propose to take their marching orders from the Tokio government; the Chinese, moreover, are demonstrating a rooted objection to the despoilation of their country.

The democratic world understands Japan's desire to put up a bold front in an effort to discharge her obligation to the European axis powers. That is pre-eminently the business of the Tokio government. The business of Great Britain—and, to a greater or lesser degree, that of France and the United States—is to prevent the creation of a situation in the Orient that would oblige her to impose measures which, while serving their immediate purpose, might cause war. The British government knows, and the moderate elements in the government at Tokio know, that Japan cannot afford to expose herself to treatment which the democratic states could quickly administer if the necessity were to arise.

Health and Housing

AT A MEETING OF THE METROPOLITAN Health Committee (Vancouver) the other day, Dr. H. E. Young, Provincial Health Officer, alluded to the overcrowding of houses and expressed the opinion that "there is no excuse in a civilized country for some of the conditions allowed to prevail in Vancouver." Housing and nutrition, in this official's opinion, should be the next major problems to be tackled by British Columbia health authorities.

It is not easy to reconcile a British Columbia comprising 366,000 square miles and a population of only a little more than that of San Francisco with the condition in Vancouver to which Dr. Young referred. But this province's largest city is by no means the only community in Canada's vast expanse in which housing conditions are anything but satisfactory. In nearly every densely-populated area of the Dominion there is ample evidence of bad town-planning or the complete absence of any apparent desire to avoid the mistakes of the Old World where public health is concerned.

From year to year British Columbia spends large amounts of money on health protection. The Provincial Board of Health and auxiliary bodies in various parts of the province have done and continue to do excellent work in the field of prevention, especially in the case of tuberculosis, and the annual death rate from this malady is gradually being reduced. But the toll is between 450 and 500. Much of it is directly traceable to bad housing conditions and improper nutrition.

With all the knowledge now available, the lessons which the mistakes of the past have provided, there is no excuse for any small community now growing up in Canada for creating for itself a problem such as that which we are told exists in Vancouver—which exists in numerous large cities in other parts of the country. The human asset is the nation's most valuable. If as much thought were given to legislation designed for its protection and preservation as to laws, for example, dealing with liquor, the country's health would soon show an improvement.

CBC's Fine Job

CANADA'S BROADCASTING CORPORATION deserves a substantial vote of congratulation for the manner it brought the proceedings attendant on the Royal Visit into the homes of so many of the people of the Dominion. When it was announced that this organization had prepared itself for actual descriptions of all the major functions not a few doubts were expressed lest repetition might become somewhat boring. Such apprehension proved groundless. Any repetition that may have been noticed merely enhanced the enjoyment of incidents which had a special appeal.

Unwittingly, moreover, the King and Queen added to the delight of the broadcasts because the listener did not know from one minute to another when either or both would do the unexpected thing, succumb to the natural impulses of normal people, and furnish the man at the microphone with new descriptive material. And this is where the personnel of the Broadcasting Corporation distinguished themselves. It was a tall order for the commentators to retain the interest of the great majority of the population for a whole calendar month. They did it and did it well. The CBC is entitled to warm praise for the part it played in a memorable and epoch-making event.

The System Again

ONE OF THE COMMONEST ARGUMENTS against the present economic system is that all men are driven by springs of the hope of personal profit, and that all such social benefits as result are purely an incidental by-product. Those who argue for socialism believe that under a social system it would be completely the other way—all motivation would be social.

To any sensible man both viewpoints are open to serious question. In both cases there is a mixture, perhaps a conflict. It is all a matter of degree. John C. Parker, Consolidated Edison (N.Y.) vice-president, recently told an assembly of electrical engineers that "This profession is social to the core. We need not worry whether a device needs to be set up to socialize us."

Perhaps that is too optimistic, but it provides food for thought. Against it must be set the practical workings of the only socialist state, where similarly-placed people are already coagulating into a specially-privileged group with "vested interests" to contend against their purely-social view. Here is a typical case where all the cats are grey, and neither black nor white.

Movies make history seem real, but alas, some child is likely to say: "Clarke Gable discovered the Mississippi. I saw him do it."

To prevent war, remove the cause, they say. What is the cause? Nine times out of ten, it is the one side's conviction that the other will be easy to beat.

The police have discovered they have the power to curb unnecessary noise on Victoria streets at night and Chief McLellan says he is going to use it. Larger cities have been passing and enforcing anti-noise ordinances, whereby would-be motor horn tooters and hilarity makers are not permitted to make the night hideous for hotel occupants. There is no doubt we were headed for some serious street accidents, the way celebrants have been allowed to tear at high speed up and down the streets with horns blaring and to no purpose except apparently to see how much noise they could make and how much attention they could attract. We shall all feel safer and better tempered now that these village antics are to be halted.

MATERNAL MORTALITY RATE

From Winnipeg Free Press

The necessity has been stressed in these columns of reducing the mortality rate in maternity cases in Canada, or saving by better care many of the mothers who are lost every year. Significant of the possibility of doing this was the statement of Dr. R. E. Wodehouse, deputy minister of the federal Department of Health, at the conference of the Canadian Public Health Association. Speaking of the survey being made in Manitoba, he said:

"The astounding fact reported is that as a result of the study of detailed case records, already the maternal death rate has shown a decided decline, approaching 50 per cent as a result of doctors checking themselves."

There is, no doubt, similar room for improvement in other parts of the country. Dr. Wodehouse said that if the betterment of the record in Manitoba were maintained over a two-year period—showing clearly the possibility of establishing a better permanent record—then it was to be hoped that some way would be found of improving the situation throughout Canada.

It would be impossible to exaggerate the importance of this subject. If the lives of hundreds of mothers can be saved every year in Canada, no greater objective could be sought by the medical profession and the health departments. The public will watch with interest the progress that is made,

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

SAD CASE

EVERY YEAR about this time my neighbors, the Barnes, go through an agony of indecision, though heaven knows why, since they invariably end up by repeating last year's mistake. For some weeks the Barnes' house has been littered with travel folders and hotel booklets and road maps of remote places. The Barnes girl, Effie, has been getting new frocks, Mrs. Barnes has come out with cool summer costumes, and Mr. Barnes, poor hopeful soul, has been vanishing his fishing rod and secretly acquiring a new landing net.

Mr. Barnes knows, of course, that he is licked, knows that he will never use the landing net and the fishing rod. In a couple of weeks he will lay them sorrowfully away and drive the family to California for its vacation.

There must be thousands of British Columbians like Mr. Barnes who are driven to California every year. Not that I have anything against California. I like California, but I have pretty high opinions of British Columbia, too, and I think that landing nets and fishing rods are intended to be used instead of deteriorating in a cupboard. And I think it is about time all the Barnes men got a break. There should be at least a Sabbath year in every seven when they can see their own country.

There is quite a lot waiting for them up in the interior of this province, besides fish for their landing nets. Have you driven up the Fraser Canyon at night with a white ghost of mist lying deep down in the black trough of the river and all the hills turned into purple velvet? Have you smelled the big red-barked pines of the Kootenays under a hot sun? Or the junipers squatting on a clay hill in the Dry Belt? Have you ridden in the darkness through an alfalfa field as pungent as a perfume factory, or watched the dawn come up behind the mountains at Lillooet?

PLENTY FOR ALL

THERE IS NO WORLD'S FAIR up there, no movie stars, no Hollywood, no Coconut Grove, none of the synthetic glamour that you read about in the magazines, but there is the endless road coiling into the north, with the bones of the gold rush buried beside it, and there is Barkerville at the end of it, wedged between Williams Creek and the mountain, just as it was in Cariboo Cameron's time, and at the other end of it there is Hazelton, wedged between its rivers, with the weird graves of Indians on the hill beside it, and these June nights you can read a newspaper up there without a lamp almost until midnight, and a couple of hours later there will be a thin band of light in the east.

No glamour, but you can ride on the hills above the Fraser between the tattered pines and see the river winding below you, brown, thick as treacle and no wider than your hand, and on the Chilcotin Plateau you can look out on all sides to the edge of the world, and the lights along the Kootenay, by Bonnington, will make you think of Budapest on the Danube.

No Coconut Grove, but have you ever tasted mutton stew off the Dry Belt range, or Wing Howe's broiled duck, or the first Yellow Transparent apples in the Okanagan or strawberries over Creston way? Ah, have you tasted wild raspberries from Kelly Lake and home-made ice cream in a log ranch-house kitchen, or tomatoes firm as baseballs and larger, out of a field down by Penticton or on the benches of the Thompson by Kamloops or Ashcroft?

NO MOVIE STARS

NO MOVIE STARS, but you will find more curious characters up there than you ever saw on the screen. Real cowboys, not the movie sort, without guitars and not much sex appeal, but marvelously skilled with horses and with an intimate knowledge of fishing holes. Prospectors in forgotten cabins. Lonely shepherds living in covered wagons with a dog, glad to talk to you, but determined not to show it. Settlers in a shack at the end of a side road, ragged, worn with toil, and more use to the country by far than you are.

And Indians who giggle over their ice cream cones, and herds of frowning, white-faced cattle, and young colts wobbling on their long legs and bluebirds nesting in old log barns and long-tailed magpies gliding over the Okanagan orchards and tiger lilies in the Kootenay hills and cactus bloom aflame in Marble Canyon beside the sheer blue of the Pavilion Lakes, and the loneliness of jackpine forests and the smell of alkali range land and cold creeks out of the snow, full of little trout, and shade of cottonwoods for your lunch and skies more blue than we ever see on the coast, and stars at night at arm's length, and air in which you hardly need to sleep at all.

It is all waiting up there, only a few miles away, the cheapest holiday country in the world. And yet Mr. Barnes and thousands like him in Vancouver are folding up their landing nets, putting their fishing rods sadly back into the cupboard.

TIENTSIN WHERE JAPAN SEEKS CONCESSIONS END—Large map is close-up of Tientsin, north China port, where Japan blockades British and French areas, inhabited by 120,000. Persons attempting to leave or enter foreign settlements are quizzed, searched in vicinity of International bridge, east station. Inset map shows position of Tientsin in respect to coast. Commercial ships discharge cargoes at Taku and Tangku, 30 miles down Hai River.

SIGNIFICANCE OF TIENTSIN

From Newsweek

A captive balloon in the sky above Tientsin one day last week carried a banner which said in Chinese characters: "Britain must recognize the new order in east Asia." The next day this had been sharpened up to read: "The British despoil our commerce and are north China's public enemy."

One point on which there was no disagreement between the Tokio Foreign Office and the army was that both wanted to confine the dispute to Britain without treading on the treaty rights of other powers.

Whatever the outcome, the blockade was the sensational testing ground for General Itagaki's policy of co-operation with Germany and Italy. He caught Britain at a moment when its hands were tied in Europe. That was to the advantage of his own country. But the Fuehrer and Duce also stand to benefit.

The objective of the European dictators is to forestall an Anglo-Russian alliance. Japan does not like the prospect of that alliance either. Thus far the Fuehrer and Duce have not been able to make Chamberlain end the Soviet negotiations. But the added pressure from Japan will tempt the Prime Minister and several of his Cabinet colleagues to sacrifice the Russian pact as ransom for the Empire's holdings in China.

BEHIND KING CAROL'S ASSASSINATION PLOT

From New York Post

The alleged plot against King Carol of Roumania and some of his ministers is somewhat mysterious. Why did the Roumanian government first deny and later confirm the existence of the plot? It is true that the police arrested a large number of the dissolved Iron Guard with hand grenades in their possession, then why the official denial?

On the other hand, since the Iron Guard is known to be the political representative of and financed by the Nazis of Germany in Roumania, it must be surmised that the illegal organization is acting on orders from Berlin. This would indicate that Hitler is dissatisfied with the King and his government and that further developments in Roumania must be expected. With Yugoslavia safely within the power of the Axis, Roumania will find it difficult to resist the embrace of Germany and her ally, Hungary.

THANKS

To the Editor:—I wish to take this opportunity of thanking the Victoria Sport Centre for the use of their building at the Willows for the staging of the Victoria Girls' Drill Team shows. There has been a misunderstanding around town to the effect they were getting paid for the use of the building. This is wholly untrue as they offered the building without cost to the committee, as far as they were concerned.

Complete Big Roofing Job

Local Contractor Uses Local Materials at B.C. Electric Jordan River Plant

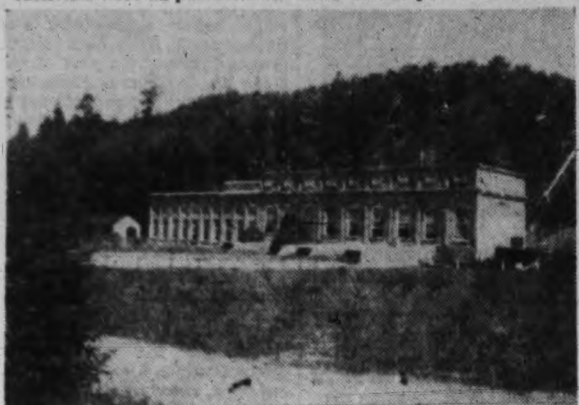

From water power the B.C. Electric Railway Company derives its main revenue. But water in the wrong place at the Jordan River plant could cost the company thousands of dollars in damaged equipment.

To prevent water from destroying electrical machinery the firm recently granted H. Cooley and Son, Victoria sheet metal workers who have been operating here for the last 45 years, a contract to lay a new roof on the main plant building.

Materials were all purchased in the dam in 1928 and in 1930 the fourth generating unit was installed and placed in operation. The power house building is of reinforced concrete, 211 feet long and 47 feet wide, and houses the four units mentioned together with transformer and switching equipment.

Water is diverted at the Jordan River dam and is then conducted for 5.3 miles in an open wooden flume to the Forebay reservoir. From this reservoir, the penstocks conduct the water to turbines in the power house. The

NEW ROOF FOR POWER PLANT—The main building of the B.C. Electric Railway Company's power plant at Jordan River was reroofed recently. The top picture shows the front elevation of the structure in which most of Victoria's electrical energy is developed. In the lower, men are shown laying the roofing material over the 10,000 square feet of the building exposed to the rain.

Victoria, the finished product being prepared by the Sidney Roofing and Paper Company and retailed by the Hickman Tye Hardware Company.

The roof area of 10,000 square feet, was blanketed by four-ply 15-pound saturated asphalt felt, laid with a 27½-inch salvage. Each layer of felt was fully mopped with asphalt, the outer surface being completed with a layer of pea gravel imbedded in asphalt.

Completed, the contractors signed their names to a 20-year guarantee for material and workmanship.

The approximate weight for the entire project was 20 tons.

Under terms of the contract the old roof had to be removed and provision made for bonding of the new covering to the old in case of rain, the danger of moisture reaching the high tension electrical equipment making it imperative that the machinery should not be exposed to a downfall at any time.

The work was finished to the complete satisfaction of the engineer in charge.

CONSTRUCTION DATA

The Jordan River power plant of the B.C. Electric, from which Victoria and the surrounding districts receive their supply of electric power, is situated at the mouth of the Jordan River, 47 miles west of Victoria.

Preliminary work was begun upon the project in 1909. The first unit was completed in 1911, the second in 1912, the third in 1914, an automatic power station was installed within the face of static head at the power house is 1,150 feet.

The Jordan River or main diversion dam is about 7½ miles above the power house. It is a reinforced-concrete hollow structure of Ambursen flat slab and buttress type. It has a total length of 891 feet and a maximum height of 126 feet—the highest of its type in Canada. The storage capacity of the dam is 16,500 acre-feet, or the equivalent of 12-million kilowatt hours at the power house. The total area flooded is 422 acres, while the drainage area of the watershed is 83 square miles.

WEDDINGS

OSBORN-HUTCHINSON

The marriage took place Saturday at Reno, Nev., of Jean Burns, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns Hutchinson of Vancouver, to Mr. William Dances Osborn of Victoria. Following a honeymoon in Yellowstone National Park, Mr. and Mrs. Osborn will reside in Victoria.

JOHNSTON-COCKELL

At St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, on Saturday morning at 9.30, Ven. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunn united in marriage Patricia Agnes, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Cockell, 2090 Granite Street, and Mr. Laurence Purcell Johnston, second son of Mrs. E. M. Haynes, 117 King George Terrace, and of the late Mr. Philip D. Johnston.

The bride was given away by her father, and wore a frock of orchid silk crepe and a matching picture hat. She carried a shower bouquet of rosebuds, carnations and sweet peas.

Mrs. R. Ryves, the matron of honor, was in a powder-blue frock with a white hat and accessories, and a corsage bouquet of rosebuds. Mr. Elmer Nichols was best man. The chancel rails had been banked with summer flowers, with fragrant mock orange blossom predominating. Mr. F. T. C. Wickett presided at the organ.

A small reception was held immediately after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, during which the bride and groom stood under an archway decorated with mock orange and roses. The wedding breakfast was served at a table centred with a three-tiered cake, and arranged with small vases of rosebuds and tall pink tapers. After a honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Johnston will make their home at Oak Bay.

BIRD-McCONNELL

VANCOUVER — A quiet wedding took place at 7.30 Monday evening, June 19, at the rectory of the Holy Rosary Cathedral, Vancouver, when Susan Winnifred Agnes, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McConnell of Victoria, became the bride of Mr. Alfred Bird, formerly of Zeballos, V.I. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Hobson.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Mrs. C. Fitzpatrick, wore a pink lace model with large picture hat and matching accessories, and carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart rosebuds.

She was attended by Mrs. Marguerite Miller, as matron of honor, wearing wine-colored lace with beanie hat and accessories, and carrying a bouquet of red and white sweet peas. Her sister, Miss Florence McConnell of Victoria, was bridesmaid, and wore an orchid sheer ensemble and carried a bouquet of pink and white sweet peas. The groom was supported by Mr. Charles Lewis.

A reception followed the ceremony at the Devonshire Hotel, the table being centred with a three-tier wedding cake and pink and white sweet peas and roses, together with ivory tapers in silver sconces. A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. John Cameron.

For traveling, Mrs. Bird changed into a grey and geranium-colored ensemble with matching felt hat and accessories. Before returning to Vancouver, where they will reside, Mr. and Mrs. Bird will visit the Exposition in San Francisco.

BAZETT-CODD

VANCOUVER — Of much interest here was the wedding which took place quietly Saturday afternoon in St. Paul's Anglican Church of Gwynedd Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Major Selby A. Codd and the late Mrs. Codd, to Mr. Charles Edward Bazett, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Bazett of Duncan, V.I. The ceremony was performed at 2.30 o'clock by Rev. Harold King.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Elizabeth Codd as bridesmaid. Mr. Tom Tryon was Mr. Bazett's groomsmen.

For her wedding, the bride wore a frock of navy blue semi-sheer crepe relieved at the neckline by touches of contrasting color in print, with a model hat of matching straw. The bridesmaid was wearing a frock of light blue woolen crepe, monastically styled, with matching hat.

Following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Bazett left by motor on their wedding trip to the interior, and on their return will reside at 1039 Pacific Street.

SOCIAL and PERSONAL

Miss Honor Benson entertained a few friends informally at a coffee party this morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. D. Benson, 2170 Esplanade, in honor of Miss Cary Wilgress, a July bride-to-be.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Manning and family have left to spend the summer months in the Cariboo.

Miss Pat Gillard of Regina, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stewart, Simcoe Street, left today for her home.

After spending a couple of weeks in San Francisco, Mrs. C. R. Savage, Falkland Road, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Winter of Vancouver, are spending the week with Mrs. Winter's sister, Mrs. P. H. Paterson, Carberry Gardens.

Miss Constance Newbury of Pittsburg, Pa., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Harold Sandall, Brentia Lodge, Brentwood Bay.

Mrs. H. W. Barnes of Winnipeg is spending a month here in the interest of her health, and is a guest at the Empress Hotel.

Mr. J. W. Hill of Winnipeg, after visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hill, Carnes Street, left today for Manitoba.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Forde, former Victorians who have been residing in Vancouver for the last seven years, returned here Friday to resume residence. They are at present staying with relatives and will shortly make their home in Oak Bay.

Miss Josephine Parrott, who is enjoying a world tour and for the past few days been visiting her cousin, Mr. J. I. Seabrook, at Langford, left Friday with Miss J. Seabrook for Sidney, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. Morgan until Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Lewis, Government Street, have returned from Seattle where they went to attend the marriage of their daughter, Margaret to Mr. W. A. Dunks that took place in Seattle on Saturday. They have as their guest their daughter, Mrs. Daniel Day of Vernon, who was also at the wedding.

Mrs. Joseph Mellon of Vancouver, formerly of Victoria, is visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. K. T. Hughes, 1259 Richardson Street, having arrived to attend the marriage on Thursday of her grand-daughter, Miss Ann Thorne Hughes, to Mr. Douglas Stevens. Mrs. Mellon will spend the summer in Victoria.

His many friends here will be interested to learn that Mr. Eric Gaiger and his wife have returned to Canada after an absence of several years in England. Mr. Gaiger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gaiger, 3015 Quadra Street, and was born here and attended Quadra North Ward and Victoria High Schools. He went to England in the fall of 1936 and was with the Leyland Motor Co. at Kingston, Surrey, about 18 months. He then secured a position with the Hawker Aeroplane Co. at Brooklands, specializing in the electrical wiring of airplanes, among which were the famous Hurricane bombers. After nearly a year at this work he was offered a position in Fort William, Ontario, with the Canadian Car and Foundry Co., which he accepted, and is now at Fort William with that firm, holding the position of inspector-instructor of the electrical wiring of planes. The company are building planes for the British government. Mr. Gaiger's hobby is building model airplanes, and while in England won many prizes with his models.

Mr. and Mrs. John Musgrave, who have been at the Empress Hotel for some months, are leaving tomorrow for Jasper Park, where they hope to stay for a week or two before returning to Victoria.

Mrs. Gordon Eberts of Vancouver and her sister, Miss Isabel Watson of Prince George, left yesterday afternoon for Vancouver after spending the last week with Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gamble, Chester Street.

This afternoon at her home at Cadboro Bay, Mrs. Kenneth McCarter was hostess at a luncheon party in complimentary farewell to Mrs. Roy Angus who is leaving shortly to make her home in Summerland, the Okanagan.

Miss Gwen Hichens-Smith of the Vancouver General Hospital, who is spending a vacation at her home on Cambridge Street, was guest of honor at a tea given yesterday afternoon by Miss Vinnie Kilby, 324 Chester Street, the invited guests being: Misses Gwen Hichens-Smith, Dollie Jordan, Marnie Sullivan, Judy Pearce, Frances Donald, Mona Humphries, Beverly Pearce, Joyce Dixon, Dolina McKinnon, Doreen Maynard, Flossie Hughes and Peggy Mulliner.

Mrs. J. J. Burns, Craigmillar Avenue, received the interesting news that Miss Hibbard, under whom she served on the nursing staff of the U.S. hospital ship Maine, stationed in Delagoa Bay, South Africa, during the Boer War, is now resident in Malvern, Jamaica, B.W.I., and is enjoying excellent health. Mrs. Burns, whose story of her sojourn in London and aboard the hospital ship Maine, appeared in the Times during the recent visit of Their Majesties to Victoria, had been the sole survivor of this interesting expedition to care for the sick and wounded of the British forces in the South African campaign.

"We Njoy Camp," the summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Russell at Cordova Bay, was the scene of a merry get-together of a group of Victoria's young people on Wednesday. After cycling out they enjoyed a pleasant afternoon in the surf followed by a game of baseball, and later in the evening dined in McMorris's Pavilion. Among those present were the Misses Cathryn Hughes, Joyce Bishop, Barbara Todd, Mildred Edmonds, Shirley Harvey, Margaret Smith, Isabel Hale, Mary Engelhardt, Joyce Bailey, Lois Russell, Daisy Lee, Fannie Martin, Mary Yoneda, Grace Ferguson, Gladys Smith and Marion Miller, the Messrs. "Dick" McCoy, Roger Hicks, John Di Castrie, Earle Morrison, Hugh McLeod, Ted Shadbolt, Art Lukes, Fred Rancome, Owen Evans and Lyle Russell.

Mrs. T. J. Clarke was hostess at a surprise birthday party on Saturday evening at her home on South Turner Street in honor of her husband. The affair took the form of a "hobo party" and scavenger hunt. In keeping with the evening's amusement was the supper, when tin plates, chipped cups and odd saucers were used, with hamburgers and doughnuts as the main item, supplemented with a lovely birthday cake. An appropriate prize was awarded the winning team. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Chalk, Mr. and Mrs. George Lyne, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wilkison, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Peacey, Mr. and Mrs. E. Reli, Mrs. A. Groves, Miss Rosa Stone, Mr. Don Jacobs, Mr. Don Booth, and the Misses Blanche and Josephine Clarke.

Mrs. F. I. Clarke and Mrs. Ebbes-Canavan have moved to Rideau Apartments, 597 Michigan Street, at the corner of Government Street.

This afternoon at her home on Rockland Avenue, Mrs. T. M. Knox entertained at the tea hour and was assisted by Mrs. T. A. Rickard, who presided at the flower-centred tea table.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lancaster recently in honor of Miss Kay Weeks, the occasion being her birthday. Miss Weeks was presented with a corsage of pale pink rosebuds and many lovely gifts. The evening was spent in playing games, the winners being Mrs. W. Nicholls and Mr. W. Weeks. Dainty refreshments were served from a table covered with a silk cloth and centred with an ice cream cake. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. A. Macham, Mr. and Mrs. M. Nicholls, Mr. and Mrs. W. Weeks, Misses E. Swain, E. Sidwell, B. Lambbrick, M. Trevelyan, K. Trevelyan, B. Weeks and Messrs. D. Miller and F. Lancaster.

A pleasant afternoon was spent at the home of Mrs. Charles Smith, Joffre Street, on Wednesday afternoon when the members of Britannia Lodge No. 216, L.O.B.A., gathered for a "bon voyage" tea honoring Mrs. C. S. Leask, who, accompanied by her daughter, Lillian, left for Belfast, Ireland, on Friday. The rooms were beautifully decorated with flowers, carnations and roses, centring the tea table, at which the hostess presided, assisted by Mrs. F. Cook. On behalf of the assembled guests, little Avis Murray presented Mrs. Leask with a corsage of rosebuds, also a tapestry knitting bag filled with traveling necessities. The invited guests were Mrs. C. S. Leask, Mrs. Bradley, Mrs. Cuthbert, Mrs. Coldwell, Mrs. F. Cook, Mrs. Chrestianson, Mrs. Hay, Mrs. Hunter, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. Mair, Mrs. Mummary, Mrs. Paterson, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Waller.

Miss Eleanor Schroeder, whose marriage to Mr. Leslie Smith will take place early in July, was the guest of honor at a surprise miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. T. Southern at her home on Government Street on Friday evening. Bowls of fragrant roses and honeysuckle were effectively used in the reception rooms and on the supper table. On her arrival Miss Schroeder was presented with a corsage of gardenias. The many lovely and useful gifts were concealed in a prettily-decorated blue and pink wishing well. During the evening several entertaining contests and games were played, causing much amusement. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Misses B. Speck, E. McLagen and B. Southern. The guests included Mesdames C. D. Clarke, G. Kirkendall, P. Davey, F. Schroeder, Bell, B. Matcham, A. Higham, M. A. Key, R. Mawhinney, W. Schroeder, Pollard, E. Moore, Linley, J. Davey, and Lancelley, and the Misses A. Morris, M. Davey, C. Davey, N. Joyce, R. Kirker, Dale, B. Southern, B. Speck, and E. McLagen, and Master Doug Southern.

The Misses Margaret and Catherine Davey were hostesses Saturday afternoon when they entertained at their home on South Turner Street in honor of Miss Phyllis Deaville, whose marriage to Mr. Jack Townsend will take place this week. Mrs. F. W. Davey assisted her daughters in receiving the guests. Upon her arrival, Miss Deaville was presented with a corsage bouquet of small gardenias and blue delphinium blossoms. Mrs.

Teachers Honored At Luncheon

W.M.S. Present Gifts To Misses Bock And Mossop Today

The executive of the Presbyterian of the United W.M.S. entertained at a luncheon in the private dining-room at Spencer's today in honor of Miss Madeline Bock and Miss Mildred Mossop, Oriental Home teachers, who leave the staff of the home this year.

Both are graduates of the United Church Training School for Leaders, Toronto, and at the end of this week will conclude 13 years of teaching at the home. They will each have a year's furlough before commencing any further work. Miss Bock intends to spend part of the year at her home in Battleford, Saskatchewan, and Miss Mossop will pay a visit to Toronto after leaving here.

Both guests of honor were presented with handsome leather writing cases as a farewell gift, and Mrs. A. T. Hunkin pinned fragrant corsage bouquets on both.

Mrs. George Guy, Presbyterian president, was in the chair and gave an interesting resume of the work done by Miss Bock and Miss Mossop on the island. Miss Wilma Gardner, also a teacher at the home, entertained the gathering with readings.

The committee in charge of the luncheon arrangements included: Mrs. T. D. Griffiths, Mrs. S. Shaw, Miss M. Laurie and Mrs. Alastair Campbell.

Garden Party Helped Cathedral Scout Funds

Mrs. J. W. Benning formally opened the fête held in the gardens of her home on Rockland Avenue on Saturday afternoon. Under the auspices of the Second Cathedral Scouts and Cubs, the affair resulting in a substantial addition to the funds.

Major A. F. Wise, the Scoutmaster, introduced Mrs. Benning, who spoke a few words of congratulation to the boys and wished them every success in their undertaking. She was given three hearty cheers by the Scouts and Cubs and, as a mark of appreciation of her generosity in loaning her garden for the occasion, was presented by the boys with a corsage bouquet of roses.

In addition to a home-cooking stall in charge of Mrs. Aubrey Kent and Mrs. Harold Ellworthy, there were archery, shooting darts, bean-guessing contest, ring game and other attractions, while the pupils of Miss Florence Clough appeared in a number of dances.

Tea was served at small tables in the garden, Mrs. Stuart Robertson, Mrs. Ben Davies, Mrs. H. K. Perry and Mrs. W. Stevens in charge.

Gloria Vauderbilt Guest Of Deanna Durbin

HOLLYWOOD (CP) — Two famous 61-year-old girls—one of them with a million-dollar voice, the other with mere millions—lunched together in a movie colony cafe Saturday.

Deanna Durbin, young singing and acting star from Winnipeg, had as guests Gloria Vauderbilt, New York heiress, and her mother, Mrs. Reginald Vauderbilt. After a few moments of shyness, Deanna and Gloria started an animated conversation and later the Vauderbills heard the Canadian songbird record a song for a new picture.

C. B. Deaville and Mrs. J. J. Townsend presided at the tea table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centred with a graceful arrangement of white and yellow Iceland poppies, mauve daisies and pale pink rosebuds with tiny silvered bullrushes in a cut glass bowl. Lighted white tapers in matching holders completed the setting. Mrs. H. W. Davey, Mrs. J. G. Davey, Miss Elinor Schroeder and Miss Betty Southern assisted the hostesses during the tea hour.

Yesterday afternoon at 3.30 at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Rankin was christened by Archdeacon Nunn, receiving in baptism the names Michael James Bell Irving. The godparents were Mrs. Ralph Gordon and Mr. W. B. Wilson of Victoria and Mr. Allan Russell of Vancouver. Following the christening service, Mr. and Mrs. Rankin were hosts at a christening tea at their home on Yale Street.

'Y' Girls Enjoy Hike

The "hare and hound" chase the other night proved to be great fun for about 20 girls who attended. Later tea was served at the Y.W.C.A. On Saturday afternoon the Bike and Hike Club enjoyed a beach ramble and "wiener roast."

This evening's beach party will not be held at Saxe Point as previously arranged, but all girls interested are asked to gather at the "Y" at 7.30, when the group will leave from there for the beach. Thursday evening's "stay-at-home" night is creating much interest and it is hoped that a large number will be present for the games and music which will begin at 8 o'clock.

The Y.W.C.A. holiday camp at Galiano Island opens over the week-end of July 1, when intermediate and senior girls may go for the week-end at a very low cost. Following this the Girls' Hi-Y Presidents' Conference goes into camp for a week of special training for the duties which these girls will carry as officers in their various clubs next fall. The camp is open until July 30 to any girl 12 to 18 and applications should be made at the Y.W.C.A. on Courtney Street. Boats leave the city on Tuesday mornings, returning on Monday, and there is direct taxi service to and from the camp grounds.

Weavers' Guild to Hold Annual Exhibition

Five years ago the Victoria Women's Institute sponsored a worthy object in the formation within its organization of the W.I. Weavers' Guild, which is composed of a group of enthusiastic spinners and weavers who have clubbed together to study and promote, through craft talks and exhibitions, handicraft as a handicraft. As part of their educational program the guild will hold their second annual exhibition in the Duke of Kent Room, Empress Hotel, Monday, July 3, to Wednesday, July 5. Admission is free.

Catholic Women in Convention Today

Sermon by Bishop
Opens Dominion
Meeting in Calgary

WINNIPEG (CP)—Delegates from coast to coast today launched the 19th annual convention of the Catholic Women's League of Canada. Mrs. T. H. Hay of Regina, president, summoned delegates into business sessions after they had attended Mass at St. Mary's Cathedral with the celebrant, Rev. R. Cadwallader.

Following the president's welcome, reports were presented by the various committees. Most Reverend F. P. Carroll, Bishop of Calgary, delivered the sermon at St. Mary's Cathedral. He referred to Catholic Action which he said was not political action "although our Catholic faith should direct and guide our political and civic life."

Christianity, he said, demanded "that we love our neighbor to the extent of bringing him the spiritual blessings we enjoy."

"And this form of the love of neighbor, this 'catching of our neighbors' for Christ, is Catholic Action," he said.

Souvenirs of Fair Sent to Royal Children

Princesses Will Receive Novel Gift

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Grover A. Whalen, wife of the head of the New York World's Fair, overheard Queen Elizabeth tell King George VI, as they passed through the fair, "I wish the children could see all of this."

So today in a diplomatic pouch a dozen each of 100 or more mementos and souvenirs of the fair were speeding to Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret Rose in Buckingham Palace.

The collection includes balloons, paper snappers, nut dishes, hats, plates, dolls, puzzles, candies, postcards, view books, scrap books, scarfs, compacts, stationery, penpals, novelty buttons, books, waste baskets, key rings, letter openers, badges, rings, pins, aprons, clocks, coin purses, bill-folds, ship models and other items—all with the trylon and perisphere motif.

The collection is the most complete collection of souvenirs of the fair that has been assembled.

NABOB Song Search

The Winners

Nita Collins and Don Nelson are collaborators on "Low Down Blues," a popular hit number which has been accepted for publication and distribution by Messrs. Davis & Schwegler of Los Angeles. Their song was submitted for test and competition in Kelly Douglas' "Nabob Song Search" over CFCI recently.

The talented Victoria song writers will receive royalties on all sheet and recorded music featuring their song. Kelly Douglas join with their friends in congratulating Nita Collins and Don Nelson on their success and the Company is extremely gratified that their "Song Search" program was instrumental in discovering so much musical talent.

Colors Darker for Next Season

By RACHEL GAYMAN
Copyright, 1939, by the Havas News Agency

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Violet-reds, browns and dark greens will be the leading colors in next season's fashion collections. This is true of woolens as well as silks. One color series promising to be popular is called "Wings of France." It comprises 45 shades ranging from a deep chamberlain to pale pink. Intermediate tones are dark violet, currant, amethyst and ruby.

Among the bronze and leather shades for next season are yellows as flamboyant as those found in autumn foliage, the warm tones of new bronze, and colors suggesting the patina of tarnished bronze.

Lesur in his group of serges, cashmeres and angoras draws exclusively from blue-greens and yellow-greens. Meyer's woolen fabrics come in violet-greys, while Maillet repeats the sea-greens for which he is noted for the Molyneux collection.

Blanchin Ferrier is launching satins for next fall which are inspired by the Louis-Philippe and Second Empire periods. They are bronze-green with black velvet motifs.

Riggs Winner At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, Eng. (AP)—Bobby Riggs, top ranking amateur of the United States, rushed through three sets in 40 minutes to defeat J. Dhamija of India, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4, and enter the second round of the all-England tennis championships today. Riggs did not remove his sweater.

Other results follow:
Roderich Menzel, Germany, defeated E. C. Peters, Great Britain, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

Jacques Brugnon, France, defeated F. H. D. Wilde, Great Britain, 6-1, 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

F. Cejnar, Bohemia and Moravia, defeated Andre Gentien, France, 6-1, 9-7, 6-2.

H. J. Etchart, Argentina, defeated B. Roys, Great Britain, 7-5, 6-1, 6-2.

Eugene Smith, Berkeley, Calif., defeated Eddie Andrews, New Zealand, 3-6, 6-2, 6-3, 6-4.

Elwood Cooke, Portland, Ore., defeated Christian Boussus, France, 1-6, 6-4, 6-0, 6-3.

Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Ora Jealous and Miss Clemency Ord, violin solos by Phyllis Hick and a humorous reading by Capt. Wilfred Ord, all of which were much appreciated and added to the enjoyment of the evening. The accompanists were Miss Dorothy Jealous, Phyllis Hick and Bernard Hick.

On behalf of the pupils Miss Tressie Gilliland expressed appreciation of Mrs. Hick's untiring efforts, after which little Ian Glenday presented her with a large, beautifully framed picture of their Majesties the King and Queen.

Modern Etiquette

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. If a bride is married in a traveling dress, does she have any bridesmaids?
2. Should the husbands and wives of members of the bridal party be asked to the breakfast which follows the ceremony?
3. How soon after receiving a wedding invitation is it permissible to send a present to the bride?
4. Is it correct to write "With very best wishes" on the card one encloses in a wedding gift?
5. When a woman has no card but her own visiting card—what does she do when she sends a gift from herself and her husband?

What would you do if—You are a bride and you have received several duplicate gifts. Would you—

- (a) Exchange them?
- (b) Feel that you have to keep them?
- (c) Keep them for sentimental reasons?

Answers
1. She usually has only a maid or matron of honor.
2. Yes.
3. Right away.
4. Yes. But not necessary.
5. She writes "Mr. and" in front of her own name.
Best "What Would You Do" solution—(a) unless you are more sentimental than most modern brides.

The former Nancy Ann Miller, who was married 10 years ago to the former Maharajah of Indore, Tukoji Rao, and (right) their little daughter, Sushila. This picture was sent to Mrs. Jennie Miller of Seattle by her daughter. The Maharajah and his American-born wife left India soon after their marriage, the territory of Indore going in charge of a son of the Rajah by a former marriage. They went to live in a fine house in St. Germain near Paris. A year later their first daughter was born. They have two other daughters, Sharada and Sita.

Giants Capture Third Straight

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

THAT JAPANESE menace so publicized around Tientsin may shift to Helsinki in 1940 with disastrous results to the United States. In other words the monopoly United States divers have been broken when the little brown men and little brown girls assemble at Finland's capital for the quadrennial games next year, provided, of course, that Japan can take time off from beating China in the Orient's hare and turtle race.

Dorothy Poynton Hill, only diver who ever defended an Olympic crown successfully, sees the Land of the Rising Sun as the greatest threat to American supremacy in the game, which, up to a few years ago, appeared to be exclusively dominated by the United States. Here last week to compete in the Pacific Northwest women's golf tournament, the chic Los Angeles girl lent the logic of experience to her argument that Japan is the country to watch in springboard and tower events.

"At Amsterdam in 1928, the American divers virtually took no notice of entries from other countries when they measured opposition for Olympic championships. By 1932, in Los Angeles, the standard of performers from other countries had improved tremendously. At Berlin in 1936 they were so much better I hardly knew them," Mrs. Hill remarked. "Dutch Smith made a grand job of coaching the Germans, but the Japanese were the most threatening. They lacked only smoothness on their entries and consistency. When they missed a dive, they looked far worse than the American boys when they misjudged their stunts."

"The Japanese girl tower diver was the only one who worried me in Germany," she added.

Concentrating now on golf, Mrs. Hill has few regrets over leaving the amateur and professional diving ranks.

"I couldn't expect to win all the time and I thought it was a good idea to quit at the top," she tells you.

The twice-crowned Olympic queen broke into the big time in 1928 as a springboard performer, placing third to Helen Meany of New York in the Amsterdam event. She changed to tower in 1932 to win at Los Angeles and repeat her victory in Berlin.

Following the last Olympiad she turned professional to join the Water Folies of 1937 and '38, in which Eleanor Holm Jarrett was featured.

She took up golf a year and a half ago and rates a nine handicap at present.

"Sometimes I think I like golf better than diving. In diving you train for a month or six months for an event that's over in a day. In golf the pressure is on all the time for a four or five-day tournament. On hot days I wish I was still swimming."

Mrs. Hill enjoyed the tournament here. She is a new convert to Victoria. She plans to come back for future tournaments to try to achieve some of the distinction in her new sport she enjoyed in her first love. But she's mightily impressed by the abilities of Pacific Northwest performers. She and her husband both agree the Evergreen Playground boasts some of the best amateurs in the country.

As far as a successor to herself or Georgia Coleman is concerned in the United States diving ranks, she figures Marjorie Gestring should be right in there, particularly on springboard work.

In the men's division she is undecided. Nobody will equal, in her estimation, the wizardry of the Canadian-born Pete Desjardins.

Pete Desjardins is the greatest diver there ever will be. He had his fundamentals down perfectly and could beat them all in height," she contends.

Incidentally, Desjardins, the little-bronzed marvel who was developed by Ernie Brandstein at (Turn to Page 10, Col. 7)

Turn Back League-lead- ing Cincinnati 3 to 2 In National Baseball

New York baseball fans haven't started chanting "subway series" yet, but it's a fact their Giants are the hottest thing in baseball right now and in the inflammable National League anything can happen.

Bill Terry's terribles completed their western swing by sweeping a three-game series with the pace-setting Cincinnati Reds—an unheard-of conquest this season. The 3 to 2 victory ground out by the Giants yesterday was their 13th in 15 games since June 7. The club has climbed from sixth to third place just a half game behind the St. Louis Cardinals and 4½ behind the Reds.

Pressing close behind the Giants and pressaging more trouble for the Reds and Cardinals, Chicago Cubs have lost only one of their last nine games, although tied once. The defeat came Saturday, 1 to 0, when Joe Marty hit a home run to win a two-hit game for Hugh Mulcahy of the Phillies. The trade which sent Marty from Chicago to the Phillies was redeemed yesterday, however, as Claude Passeau out-pitched Kirby Higbe to win, 4 to 3, for the Cubs.

BEES WIN PAIR

Boston Bees swamped St. Louis in a Sunday doubleheader. Max West getting a home in each game, the Bees took the opener 8 to 5 and the second 2 to 0.

Brooklyn Dodgers eased the embarrassment of their western woes by nosing out Pittsburgh Pirates, 6 to 5. Lavagetto decided the game with a two-run double in the ninth.

St. Louis' lowly Browns smote the mighty New York Yankees to split a doubleheader. After eight losses to the champions the tail-enders batted around for five runs in the ninth inning of yesterday's first game to win 7 to 3. Bill Dickey accounted for all the Yankee runs with two homers. In the second game, New York slugged out a familiar 11 to 2 triumph.

Cleveland Indians and Philadelphia Athletics also divided a bargain bill. Ben Chapman, Hal Trosky and Jeff Heath hit consecutive homers in the seventh inning to tie an old record and clinch the first game for the tribe, 8 to 4. The A's snared the nightcap, 10 to 2.

In a type of game common only to Washington, Detroit Tigers defeated the Senators, 6 to 5, although out 12 to 7 and letting in two runs on errors. Boston Red Sox and Chicago White Sox again were rained out.

BALL LEADERS MEET TONIGHT

Athletics and Navy Baseball Clubs Battle for Rithet Cup Leadership

By handing Pitzer and Nex a 9 to 4 trimming Saturday night at Athletic Park, Navy baseballers climbed up to share first berth in the Rithet Cup, city championship series, with Athletics, and the two leaders will take the diamond at the enclosure tonight to decide sole occupation of the top spot in the standings.

They will open their fixture at 6.15, with Ernie Woodward operating from the mound for the sailors, and Ray Maitland doing the heavy duties for the A's.

Navy boys really hit a fine stride last week and established themselves as a serious threat in the cup race.

On Saturday night sailor batters collected 15 safe hits from the offerings of Lloyd Jones, veteran Pitzer and Nex southpaw, to pave the way for their second victory of the week.

The score was thrown into a 2 to 2 deadlock at the end of the first inning, but in the last of the fourth Navy bunched four runs to go out in front for the rest of the game. The R.C.N. hit the ball hard and got base knocks where they were most needed.

From the slants of Eddie DeCosta, Gasmen got 11 safeties, but they were well scattered. Pitzer and Nex got dangerous in the ninth, but DeCosta came back to retire the side after three batters had hit safeties.

DeCosta breezed eight and Jones five.

SECOND DIVISION

In second division baseball Navy has a slim lead over the Cubs with the Humphreys Cup race half way through its second round. Navy has nine wins and a defeat to their count, while Cubs have one less win and two losses to their record. Oak Bay is in third place with five wins and three losses, and Eagles are fourth with one more loss than the Oak Bay nine has. Pitzer and Nex is fifth, Brown Bombers sixth and Cedar Hill Athletics are in the cellar.

This week's second division games follow:

TOMORROW

Cubs vs. Brown Bombers, Beacon Hill. Umpire, Malcolm. Pitzer & Nex vs. Eagles, Oak Bay Park. Umpire, Scroggs. Navy vs. Oak Bay, Admirals Road. (To be appointed).

THURSDAY

Cubs vs. Navy, Admirals Road. (To be appointed). Oak Bay vs. Eagles, Oak Bay Park. Umpire, Scroggs. Cedar Hills vs. Pitzer & Nex, Beacon Hill. Umpire, Waller. The first mentioned is the home club. All games start at 6.15.

Picard Wins Open Golf at Scanton

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa. pro, turned in a two-under-par 68 on his last round yesterday to win the $5,000 Anthracite open golf tournament with a 72-hole total of 273. Sammy Snead, Canadian open champion from White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., who trailed Picard by one stroke at the end of 54 holes, slipped to a 73 and finished second with 279.

The victory was worth $1,200 to Picard and made him the top

Canadians Win One

Eleanor Young and Bill Pedlar, Vancouver, Salvage Lone National Net Title

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Meet Bill Pedlar and Phil Pearson, the happy-go-lucky kids who are almost certain to catch a boat to Cuba next month to play doubles on Canada's Davis Cup team.

Pedlar is 18 and left-handed, Pearson 19 and a right-handed socker. They began playing doubles together in Vancouver in the spring of 1938 and long since they have gained revenge on the only Canadian doubles team ever to beat them, Ellis Tarshis and Gordon Macneil of Montreal.

They were defeated here Saturday in the final of the Canadian tennis championships by Morey Lewis of Texarkana, Tex., and Frank Froehling of Chicago. But before Lewis and Froehling achieved their 6-4, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2 success, Pedlar and Pearson had knocked out a string of Canadians long enough to indicate they're the best active doubles combination in Canada. The previous week they won the Ontario title.

Pedlar and Pearson contributed the main Canadian angles as United States stars swept all but one event on the Dominion championship board.

LEWIS WINS SINGLES

Lewis, 20-year-old captain of the Kenyon College team, won the men's singles title by defeating Bob Madden of Detroit, 6-2, 6-3. Elizabeth Blackman, Detroit, took the women's singles championship by overthrowing the 1938 winner, Mrs. Rene Bolte of Montreal, 7-5, 7-5. Then Miss Blackman teamed with her sister, Louise, to take the women's doubles crown over Mrs. Bolte and Mrs. A. R. Porter of Montreal, 6-2, 6-3.

But if there was any lingering doubt about the doubles-playing ability of Pedlar and Pearson, it was dispelled when they reached the mixed doubles final. There Pedlar and Eleanor Young of Vancouver beat Pearson and Mrs. W. R. Walton, Jr., of Toronto, 6-2, 6-4.

moneysaver of the year to date with $7,077. Snead earned $750 by finishing second.

Galento-Louis Ready

Finish Training for Wednesday Night's Title Heavyweight Battle

NEW YORK (AP)—To the tune of a shift in sentiment toward Tony Galento and an upbeat at the box office that promised a possible $500,000 gate, Joe Louis and the roly-poly puncher wound up training details yesterday for their 15-round meeting in Yankee Stadium Wednesday night.

Louis tapered off with two rounds of sparring at his training base at Pompton Lakes, N.J. Galento, after winding up his heavy duty work with five so-so rounds at Summit, N.J., Saturday, only went through the motions of bag punching and rope skipping.

The champion, when he finished, still was cagy about what is going to happen. But Galento finally topped his long, loud shouts of "disrespect" of the bomber's ability by predicting a knockout for Tony in five rounds.

"Yeah, that's it," he roared. "Five heats and this (holding up his club-like left) will do it. I'll flatten the guy and show 'em who's boss."

"He's a tough white boy," was Louis' only comment. "I figure I'll belt him out, but I don't know how early. I'll be 'jes' as soon as I catch him comin' in." Promoter Mike Jacobs saw the possibility of a financial as well as an artistic success out of this threatened heavyweight tilt rough house. A week-end increase in the number of customers appearing with ready cash to buy seats made it appear possible the gate would soar over the $500,000 mark.

Westland Beats Black After Gruelling Battle

Chick Barbo in Auto Racing Win

Keen Competition at Langford Speedway Meet Saturday Evening

In red hot competition at the fifth international automobile racing meet of the season at the Langford Speedway, Saturday night, Chick Barbo, Portland, driving car No. 27, won himself top honors when he drove a spectacular race to have the checkered flag drop for his first in the 20-lap main event.

Nine cars, five American and four local, took the starter's drop in the event. Bert Bloomgren, Seattle, in the pole position, went to the front for the first five laps. Swede Linskog, Seattle, who has been making a clean sweep of things at the local oval this season, started in the sixth position, and Bert Sutton, local top notcher, drew the tail spot. Barbo started fourth.

Bunched together going into the northwest turn, on the second lap, Linskog pulled a boner, stepping on the accelerator to stay with Barbo, who had moved up to the second position. Linskog had moved up on the outside. The acceleration was too great and the "Swede" went into a wild spin, ending up facing in the wrong direction. The field moved by him and on the sixth lap Barbo gunned his little car past Bloomgren for the lead. Sutton had driven well to make the fourth position.

From the seventh lap on it was Barbo, Bloomgren and Sutton in the first three positions. They held them to the checkered flag. Tony West, driving car No. 62, had engine trouble and dropped out in the early stages of the race. Carson, local pilot of car No. 8, spun out on the sixth. Tommy Legge, Seattle, driving No. 4, lost control on the eighth lap and ended up half way in the infield, and Jimmy Laird, local No. 2 pilot, spun out on the 18th lap. The time for Barbo was 7 minutes 11.5 seconds. Digger Caldwell placed fourth to Sutton.

Linskog, although he lost out in the feature event, managed to cop himself two firsts—the helmet dash and first heat race. In both events Barbo, starting in the second spot, made the race in his attempts to get by Linskog.

Linskog's time in the five-lap dash was 1.37. In the eight-lap first heat race he made 2.33. The second heat race was exciting, with the best of competition being provided. Bloomgren started in the pole position and held the lead to the finish, but Moore, local No. 10 car driver, handled his car well to finish second. West was third. White, local No. 6 driver, spun out on the fifth lap.

WHITE LOSES CONTROL

The third heat race was perhaps the most popular event of the evening amongst the near-capacity number of fans on hand. On the first lap of the event White lost control, running over the rear end of car No. 7, driven by Jerry Vantreight, Victoria, finishing up with his front end practically sitting in Vantreight's cockpit. Vantreight broke a piston, ending his activities for the evening. The event was started again with West, White, Sutton and Laird.

Sutton drove a fine race to come from the third spot to the lead by the fourth lap. He finished first, with West second. His time was 2.47.35.

Moore pulled White's third heat race mistake in a match race on the program when he mounted the rear end of West's car on the first lap. The car slipped and spun in the middle of the track. Caldwell coming up from the rear missed by a whisker. Caldwell carried on to overtake West, finishing first.

Tommy Legge made the win in the fourth heat race, driving a nice race over Caldwell and Laird. On the last lap of the race White had his right rear wheel shear off and he hit the back fence, taking out several planks in two places. He came out of it with only a slight bump on the back of his head.

Camerons Win Two

Camerons' softball team invaded Port Angeles yesterday and marked up a double victory in exhibition games. The Victoria team won the morning game 10 to 6 and the afternoon clash 10 to 9. Feature of the first tilt was two home runs by Lorne Murray, Cameron's captain.

wickets for 26 runs; J. I. Simpson, 3 wickets for no runs. For the 'School, Rowe had 3 wickets for 12 runs, Pickles 2 for 10, Rowe II 1 for 10 and Pitts 1 for 16.

Champ Wins Match On 37th Green

Seattle Veteran Takes Second Straight P.N.W. Title; McDougall Victor

Jack Westland, Seattle, is still Pacific Northwest men's amateur golf champion. Saturday afternoon at the Colwood Club the diminutive little former United States western amateur titleholder and French amateur monarch, with a fighting heart as big as a lion, turned back one of the gamest challengers he has ever been up against, Ken Black, Vancouver, at the 37th hole to win his second straight crown.

The P.N.W. women's final over the same links proved to be a rout, Miss Marian McDougall, Portland, capturing her fourth successive title with a crushing 13 and 12 victory over Mrs. C. W. Jones, Seattle.

The men's final, followed in the afternoon by close to 1,000, one of the largest local golf galleries in recent years, unlike many deciding matches, produced some brilliant golf. Both players were on the top of their game and their mistakes were few. As a matter of fact Black made, what might be termed three errors and Westland two. That was the difference between victory and defeat. It was a grand match to win and a bitter one to lose.

Westland, one of the smoothest iron players to ever tour a local course and deadly putter, was steady as a rock in the afternoon, after gaining a one-hole lead on the morning round. The champion's short game featured his play, although on a couple of occasions he uncorked second wood shots that drew applause from the gallery. Black, who usually had an advantage off the tee, was hitting the ball just as well as his opponent, but his usually steady putting touch was missing. Of all the clubs in his bag Black's putter proved his worst one.

LITTLE MARGIN

However, the margin between the two players was so small it would be difficult to define and victory could just as easily have gone to one or the other. Black was fighting an uphill battle throughout the entire match as he was never up during the 37 holes. Three times in the afternoon Black squared the match, the last time on the 36th hole.

The deciding hole saw Westland pull off a beautiful recovery. After half hitting his tee shot the champion hit a screaming brassie to the green within 20 feet of the cup. Black, after a good drive, made his third mistake of the round, overclubbing his iron over the green in the rough. Black chipped out within six feet of the pin and missed his putt. Westland had laid his putt within three feet and calmly dropped the ball home for his par four, the hole and the match. As the ball disappeared from sight Westland dropped his putter and threw his arms around Black's neck. The pair then shook hands, marking the end of the battle.

First hole in the afternoon was halved in par fours. On the 20th Westland got a break when his chip from the edge of the green struck the back of the cup to lay Black a dead stymie. The Vancouver player attempted to jump the ball but just missed and went 2 down. The dog-leg 21st was halved in par fours.

SQUARES MATCH

On the short 22nd Westland was short just missing the water while Black was on. Westland chipped short and missed his putt to lose the hole to Kenny's par three. Westland's margin was 1 up. The next two holes were halved in par fives and fours. Dropping a 25-foot putt for a birdie two Black won the short 25th to square the match.

The 26th was halved in fours and the 27th in fives, leaving the players all square at the three-quarter mark. At the latter hole Black missed a chance to take the lead when he chipped short and then missed his putt. The 28th was halved in par fours. Black went 1 down again at the 29th, his approach putt, after both had put their tee shots on the green, going eight feet past the cup and his second missing by inches. Westland got his three from 20 feet away. The next two holes were halved in par fours, Westland making a beautiful recovery (Turn to Page 13, Col. 3)

Goat Show Is Great Success

W. and K. Nurton's Entry Wins Trophy For Best Doe Kid

The kid show held Saturday at the Willows exhibition grounds under the auspices of the Victoria Goat Breeders' Association was a great success and some splendid animals were admired by a large crowd of persons interested in this phase of Vancouver Island farming.

T. G. Stewart, Dominion livestock fieldman, was the judge and said the quality of the animals was excellent. He said they showed the improvement of the various breeds represented. All the kids shown were in first-class condition, none over-fitted and all were a credit to their owners, he said.

The winner of the trophy for the best doe kid was Burton's June Shasta Laurel, dam, Burton's June Shasta, and grand-dam, Burton's June; R.O.P. record, 4,502 pounds of milk and 145 pounds of butterfat, which shows type and production.

Prizes were won as follows: Purebred Nubians, 1 and 2, Bromsgrove Midnight and Twilight, Miss R. Smart; grade Nubians, Sr., 1, Bromsgrove Variety, Miss R. Smart; grade Nubian, Jr., 1, 2 and 3, Bromsgrove Beauty, Rine, Pretty, Miss R. Smart; Saanen, purebred, Sr., 1 and 2, Bromsgrove Gentle and Fance, Miss R. Smart; Saanen purebred, Jr., 1, Bromsgrove Alice; Saanen grade, Jr., 1 and 3, Bromsgrove Grace and Bonny, 2, G. Mowat; Toggenburgs purebred, Sr., 1, 2 and 3, Burton's Sandra, Dallas, Maris, W. and K. Burton; Toggenburgs purebred, Jr., 1 and 2, Burton's June Shasta Laurel, Burton's June Glow, W. and K. Burton; Toggenburgs grade, 1, 2 and 3, Burton's Linda, Shamrock and Marina, W. and K. Burton.

P.B. bucks, all breeds, 1, 2 and 3, Bromsgrove Victor, Splendid, Superior, Miss R. Smart.

A. A. MacMillan of the Dominion Department of Agriculture was at the show and also visited a number of local goat farms. He discussed the Dominion buck grading and bonus policy, under which scheme purebred bucks may be inspected, at the owner's request, and rated according to excellence by the Dominion graders. According to grade, the buyers of these bucks are then entitled to a bonus from the Dominion government. This method is similar to the ram grading policy which has been operating with great success for some years.

ANNUAL MEETING OF ACCOUNTANTS

The Institute of Chartered Accountants of British Columbia held its 34th annual meeting in the Hotel Vancouver, Friday, under the chairmanship of its president, E. C. Mapson, C.A.

W. E. Hodge, F.C.A., president of the Dominion Association of Chartered Accountants, addressed the meeting on the activities of the Dominion association during the past year.

Members elected to the council of the institution for the ensuing year were as follows: C. G. Chambers, V. R. Clerihue, G. V. Coles, W. H. Cotter, K. D. Creer, Frederick Field, R. C. Field, G. F. Gyles, E. C. Mapson, W. G. Rowe, R. W. Underhill and J. Haydon Young. Following the business meeting, the members took part in a golf match at Shaughnessy Golf Club, and in the evening an informal dinner was held, which proved to be a most enjoyable function. At the conclusion of the dinner, Hall C. Chiene, F.C.A., presented certificates to the following newly-admitted members: T. A. A. Fraser, F. A. Griffiths, S. M. Horner, L. P. Kent, Brian W. Power and Cyril A. Nixon.

Presentation of golf prizes and the showing of some very amusing moving pictures taken during the course of the golf game concluded the evening.

Empress Hotel Staff Changes for Summer

B.C. Will Fight Dangerous Weed

Marijuana, Harmful to Persons Smoking it, Has Been Made Noxious

War against marijuana, a weed which when smoked drives persons insane, causing crime and brutality, will be waged in British Columbia this year, following passage of order-in-council last week making it a noxious weed.

Farmers of British Columbia have asked it be classified a noxious weed so it could be stamped out.

There is not a great deal of it in British Columbia, but it is increasing because there has been no law making it illegal to leave it growing on unused acreage of the province's largest farms.

Under the Noxious Weeds Act a person not destroying a noxious weed on his property is liable to prosecution.

Marijuana has caused tremendous trouble in the United States and Canadian customs men have been on the lookout in recent years to see it does not enter this country.

It has caused insanity and crime among young people in high schools, where it was smoked considerably until U.S. Government officials started stamping it out.

"Farmers have been asking us from time to time to include this weed in the act and we see no reason why it should not be," Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, said.

The weed spreads rapidly, causing damage among farmers' crops.

So far no harm has been done in British Columbia from smoking the weed and as far as is known none has been exported to the United States in any quantity.

With the war in the States against it, however, there was a danger the weed would be smuggled out of this province.

It will take several years to entirely stamp it out of British Columbia. Because of the vast spaces of unoccupied land it will be difficult to track it all down. The government will co-operate with the farmers and see that unowned land is also cleared of the dangerous weed and drug.

The first milk bottle was invented in 1884.

Army Vaccination Not Compulsory

H. Webster presided at the monthly board meeting of the Canadian Anti-vivisection Society, a heavy correspondence being dealt with.

The National Anti-vaccination League, London, notified the society that conscripts and territorials are not obliged to be vaccinated, while inoculation is already optional. A small donation has been sent to assist the league in notifying the public, through its poster campaign, of regulations.

Congratulations have been sent to the League of Freedom, Guernsey, which is fighting for its liberty in health matters. In spite of a petition signed by 4,300 residents opposing diphtheria immunization, and supported by 58 doctors, the law has gone into effect.

A report was made by R. A. Pease of Vancouver and W. B.

Pease of Victoria on work being effected in Vancouver. Several new members have been enrolled from Victoria, Vancouver and other parts.

Information was heard by the directors concerning vivisectional experiments in British Columbia. From Holland came information that compulsory vaccination has been again suspended for a further two-year term, on account of its association with sleeping sickness (encephalitis).

Greater Gasoline Sales During April

Greater Victoria used 526,356 gallons of gasoline during April, a considerable increase over the same month of last year, according to a report released this morning by the Coal and Petroleum Board.

Fine weather in April brought hundreds of cars onto the road, with the resulting increase in the sale of gasoline.

Retailers sold 408,224 gallons; industrial concerns used 113,090 gallons and 5,042 gallons went to the marine trade.

A total of 4,413,817 gallons was used throughout the province, an increase of 477,373 gallons in April of 1938.

Vancouver and district sold 1,841,603 gallons in that month. There was an increase in consumption of nearly 13 per cent outside Victoria and Vancouver.

FOR HOT WEATHER

When the mercury climbs to 90° or 100°—think of your motor. In summer, the temperature of the oil in the crankcase of a modern motor is extremely high. Under such conditions, Mobiloil "stands up".

Those elements in oil that go to pieces under high heat are not present in Mobiloil. Clearosol Refining takes out the elements that ordinarily form sludge. An improved Mobiloil dewaxing process removes carbon-forming wax. F the oil is filtered time after time to get rid of the last trace of unwanted matter.

Mobiloil is worth more to you. It lasts longer—gives up to 25% more mileage, so motorists say. It keeps motors cleaner, livelier, smoother-running. Don't take a chance with the big money investment you have in your car. Change to Summer Mobiloil now.

GARGOYLE INDUSTRIAL LUBRICANTS, used widely throughout all branches of industry, are manufactured by the makers of Mobiloil.

Makes Claims On Arbuthnot Estate

Trial of Action By
Solicitor Now Before
Supreme Court Here

Trial of the action brought by Robert Scott Lennie, plaintiff, against Lillian Arbuthnot, executrix of the estate of the late John Arbuthnot, and Theodosia Arbuthnot, an infant and beneficiary, opened before Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in Supreme Court today.

Plaintiff claims fees and expenses amounting to $242,177, general unearned fees, calls for specific performance of an alleged agreement conveying to him certain shares, seeks an injunction restraining the defendant from disposing of the shares, asks damages for alleged breach of retainer, certain commissions, costs of the action and other relief.

He bases his claims on certain legal work undertaken for the defendant, Mrs. Arbuthnot. The defence denies certain actions on which claims are based, and, in a counter claim, demands an accounting of money allegedly received by the plaintiff, plus costs of the counter claim and other relief.

Russell Twining appears for the plaintiff and A. deB. McPhillips for the defendant.

Following hearing of testimony this morning the case was adjourned until this afternoon.

Weather Here Not Out of Ordinary

Victoria really has no kick about the weather that she is experiencing at the present time. On June 26 last year the maximum temperature was 65 degrees and the minimum 50 degrees, Gonzales Meteorological officials said, and it reached over 60 today.

The real hot weather seldom comes before the longest day of the year, which was last Wednesday. There is plenty of time yet for a scorcher. Few people appreciate the good the recent weather is doing, the weatherman said.

The forecast today was for

Team to Visit San Francisco

Local Girls' Drill Unit to Leave for World's Fair On Wednesday

On Wednesday afternoon 32 young ladies, comprising the Victoria Girls' Drill Team, will embark on the Seattle boat en route to San Francisco to perform upon invitation at Treasure Island.

This announcement was made Saturday night by officials of the tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce following the team's repeat performance of Royal Court pageant in the Willows Park auditorium.

This was the second show staged by the drill unit, which is under the direction of Norman Foster, within a month and both presentations attracted good crowds, thus making the girls' trip financially possible. Saturday night's show attracted 800 spectators.

The smart drill squad, whose every appearance on the floor Saturday drew rounds of applause, will accompany "Miss Victoria" (Kay White) and her two attendants (Doreen McGregor and Jean Wilson) on the trip, and the whole party will officially represent Victoria at the fair.

During their visit they will give performances of the Royal Court pageant on July 1 and July 4. During the interval they will be at liberty to see the fair.

The party will be away nine days, five of which will be spent in San Francisco.

The Shrine Band, under the direction of George Green; the Russian Ballet School and the Y.M.C.A. tumbling team assisted in Saturday's show.

IN TOWN TODAY

Enjoying a holiday away from the turmoil of Europe, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. de Roos, from The Hague, are at the Empress Hotel today.

It is their first visit to North America and they are thoroughly enjoying every moment. They will be away three months altogether and when they return to Holland they hope conditions in Europe will have quietened.

Baron and Baroness de Giey of Gand, Belgium, are two other persons who have come to this continent to escape for a time the unrest in Europe.

They are here en route to San Francisco and Hollywood. They spent a week in Vancouver and were received at the City Hall by Mayor Telford.

Several persons from England arrived at the Empress Hotel today, during the course of holiday visits to Canada. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. W. Brown of Huntingdonshire, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Sutcliffe, London; C. J. Pead, London and Frank Solomon, London.

An unusually large number of Seattle people spent the week-end in Victoria, many of them coming here to play golf. Among the visitors from the Puget Sound metropolis were Mrs. Thomas Bordeaux, William Bordeaux, Mrs. Thomas Stimson, Harry Umbinetti, S. Kipper, Harry Nolan, Mr. and Mrs. A. Drimmel, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Sprague, Miss M. Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gilleland, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Florito, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McLaren, Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. More, Clarence Campbell, George H. Watton, W. H. Smith, R. W. Scott, V. E. Gilmour, Miss Barbara Winn, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Derby, Mrs. E. R. Ketchan, Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Brooke, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. King, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McKennon, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Florito and two children, H. Whitman and Don Ehle.

The season's conducted tour parties are now arriving daily at the Empress Hotel. Today a Berry tour party of 75 persons, originated in Kansas City, arrived from Seattle on the noon boat and will leave at midnight for Vancouver.

Tomorrow there will be two tour parties in town—one of 62 persons and the other of 30 persons. On Wednesday there will be a party of 51 persons and on Thursday one of 55 persons. They will come from many parts of the United States.

fresh southeasterly to southwesterly winds, partly cloudy with mist and light showers for this afternoon, this evening and tomorrow morning. The rest of tomorrow is forecasted to be fair.

New Map of Vancouver Island Is Published

A new map of southern Vancouver Island, to take the place of the last edition of this series, printed in 1920, has been published by the surveyor-general's office at the Parliament Buildings, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Lands, announced this morning.

The new sheet is on the same scale as formerly, four miles to one inch, and shows the land and water areas from Port Angeles to Courtenay and Comox and from the outline of Greater Vancouver to Nootka Sound. The map covers one of the most interesting sections of the province.

The up-to-date classification of the surveyed land and timber areas, constituting the areas outside municipalities, is shown in colors.

Considerable changes have been made in the outline and location of the rivers, creeks and lakes, representing the progress, to date, of the detailed topographical survey covering Vancouver Island.

German-Soviet Talks

BERLIN (AP)—Count Friedrich von der Schulenburg is en route back to his post as ambassador at Moscow to complete preliminary negotiations for a German-Soviet trade treaty, it was learned today.

A trade mission is expected to follow the ambassador if a treaty appears possible—and both sides have expressed readiness to come to some terms, after two failures.

Argues Against Colony Return

Frank Hunter Tells Gyros
Germany Weak in
Reasons for Repossession

Colonies of Germany, taken away from her at the close of the Great War, should not be returned, Frank Hunter, city clerk, told members of the Gyro Club at lunch in the Empress Hotel today.

Mr. Hunter submitted the reasons given by Germany for the return of the colonies and proceeded to prove their weaknesses. He explained that the colonies, mainly in Africa, covered an approximate 1,000,000 square miles and had a population between 11,000,000 and 12,000,000 natives.

The need for raw materials was one of Germany's main reasons why she should be given back her colonies. This was one of the weakest excuses, Mr. Hunter said. Germany's lost colonial possessions were far from being rich in raw materials.

Holland had some of the richest colonies in the world. Sweden had no colonies. Nevertheless Sweden was just as rich and prosperous as Holland had ever been. Great Britain, which controlled many large and rich colonies, was not able to find freedom from the economic depression which struck her following the war. Switzerland was the richest country in Europe. She had no colonies.

Colonies did not rate very high in world trade. Only 10 per cent of world trade came from the colonies. Residents in the former German colonies had shown their preference in dealing with Great Britain rather than Germany with her products, Mr. Hunter continued.

Germany said she needed colonies for her excess population. She was not nearly so crowded as other countries. Her average population per square mile was 600. Belgium had an average of 700 per square mile.

Art Minnis occupied the chair. Hubert Lethaby introduced the speaker and at the close a vote of thanks was moved to Mr. Hunter.

ENGLISH CRICKET TEAM SCORES 404

Put on Big Total for Five Wickets in Test
Match With West Indies

LONDON (CP)—Held down by accurate bowling for the greater part of the day, England's batsmen hit out vigorously after the tea interval today to carry their score to 404 runs for five wickets at the close of play in the first cricket test with the West Indies. The touring players were dismissed Saturday for 277 runs.

Leonard Hutton, holder of the world record test score, and Denis Compton of Middlesex starred in the Mother Country's assault on the West Indies bowlers. The Yorkshireman smashed out 196 runs in a shade over five hours, but Compton's 120 in 2 hours 20 minutes was one of the quickest centuries in modern test history.

Throughout the day 21,000 spectators saw the batsmen struggle in bad light until tea. More than an hour was lost in two halts, rain falling during the second delay. Hutton started slowly but scored freely later, and his strokes included a five and 21 fours. Compton bagged 16 boundaries in the dazzling display.

At the close Joseph Hardstaff, Nottinghamshire, and Arthur Wood, Yorkshire, were together. Hardstaff had scored three runs, but the English wicketkeeper had not broken his "duck."

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

ANSWER: The racoon. If water is near at hand, the animal usually will carry any food to it and wash it thoroughly. It is this habit which gives the racoon its Latin name of "lotor," meaning "a washer."

Itching Burning Feet
Go to MacFARLANE DRUG STORE—or any other good druggist today and get an original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil. Don't worry—this powerful, penetrating oil brings such ease and comfort that you'll be able to go about your work again, happy and without that almost unbearable itching and soreness.

Rub on Emerald Oil tonight—freely; it does not stain—it is economical. Money back if not satisfied. Get it at good druggists everywhere.

Parachutist Killed
ST. CATHARINES, Ont. (CP)—Joseph Chadwick, 21-year-old St. Catharines aviation enthusiast, dropped 2,500 feet to his death when his parachute failed to open during an air meet here yesterday.

A crowd of 2,000 spectators, including the victim's mother, Mrs. Joseph Chadwick, saw the young man crash into an orchard.

Chadwick was the first of three novices scheduled to make their initial parachute jumps, but following the accident the balance of the show was canceled.

WOMEN'S FINAL
Starting the afternoon round with an eight-hole lead Miss McDougall lost no time closing out her match with Mrs. Jones. The champion won the 19th and 20th holes to become 10 up. On the 21st the Portland miss garnered her second straight birdie and gained an 11-hole margin. The short 22nd was halved but a par five on the next hole gave Miss McDougall a 12-hole advantage. The champion ended the match with a win at the next hole.

Mrs. Arthur Dowell won the first flight from Miss Elizabeth Frank, Seattle, 7 and 5. Second flight honors went to Mrs. J. C. Baldwin, Seattle, with a 2 and 1 win over Mrs. Donna Bird, Seattle, and the third flight to Mrs. M. Pearce over Mrs. J. Jones, Portland, 4 and 3.

At the conclusion of the finals the prizes were presented by R. H. Pooley, president of the association.

Laughton to Return to Stage

Actor Returns to New York With Desire To Play King Lear

By LEON EDEL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK—Charles Laughton breezed into New York and Broadway this week, a wide grin on his chubby face, his tousled hair flying in the wind, and in his mind ambitious plans to add "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" to his many film portrayals and King Lear to his Shakespearean repertoire.

This writer found him on the upper deck of the liner Queen Mary as it moved into New York Harbor, with pretty Maureen O'Hara, his newest leading lady, at his side. He was pretending to point out Manhattan's bold skyline to her before a group of news photographers.

Miss O'Hara, who smilingly said she was "Irish through and through," from Dublin, put a far-away look into her blue eyes and let the wind play with her red hair, while Mr. Laughton obligingly lifted a pudgy arm, pointed a heavy forefinger at the Empire State Building, and the camera bulbs began to pop.

In the flesh, Mr. Laughton—back in America for the first time since he did "Mutiny on the Bounty"—doesn't look one bit like stern Captain Bligh, brooding Mr. Barrett or ambling Ginger Ted. He is of medium height, plump but not fat, with heavy, elastic features that can be at once affable and bland, gay and jovial, and always are full of good fun. On the deck, in baggy flannels and an old striped jacket, he looked like a schoolboy on a lark, except when he talked theatre. Then he looked, for all the world, like Oscar Wilde.

SEES GREAT FUTURE
He described the clear-eyed Maureen O'Hara as "little Miss Menace—she is going far." Only 18, Maureen has just stepped from the Abbey Theatre into a leading role opposite Laughton in Daphne du Maurier's blood-curdling story of Cornwall wreckers, "Jamaica Inn."

Laughton is anxious to get back to the stage, and to Shakespeare. He wants to do King Lear, first at the Old Vic and then on Broadway. "I know it's a formidable job to take on," he said, "but I want to do it." And he looks forward to re-doing the old Lon Chaney success in the films.

Elsa Lanchester, Laughton's wife, will follow him to the coast in a few days.

SUMMER PLAYS
Helen Trenholme, formerly of Montreal's Repertory Theatre, is forsaking Broadway for the summer theatre. Still desiring varied stage experience, although she has been consistently busy these past few seasons, she will take a fling at summer theatre work at Cape Cod, starting July 1.

on the 30th after topping his drive.

Black put the match all square again on the 32nd with a birdie four, Westland making a bad chip to the green to get a five.

It was one of the few times during the match the champion's irons failed him. The 33rd was halved in three and the 34th in four.

Westland went into the lead again on the 35th when Black overruled and missed his second, a six-footer, while Westland was dead with his third.

Black gambled on the home hole and squared the match. After Westland had driven to the top of the hill Black played to the corner just clear of the rough. When Westland was short with his second Kenny punched out a beautiful hooked iron to the edge of the green, putted his ball within four feet and rammed home his second attempt for a par four and the hole.

That provided the set-up for the finish on the first extra hole.

In the final of the first flight Don Thompson, Portland, defeated Vic Painter at the 37th. Fred Davis, Portland, defeated Jack Bacon 2 and 1 in the second flight and J. J. Young, Los Angeles, defeated Ray Castle 2 up in the third flight.

Great Picture Held Over Here

"Wuthering Heights" Is Retained By Plaza Management

Claimed to be Sameul Goldwyn's greatest achievement, the beautifully realized screen version of Emily Bronte's novel, "Wuthering Heights" is being held over at the Plaza Theatre.

The film is a thing of beauty that will linger in the imagination of those who see it.

No one who has read the book, which has been called the greatest love story written in English, will need to be urged to see the film. But all those to whom the Bronte story is still a closed book should go to the Plaza for the aesthetic pleasure of seeing the wild, passionate love affair, which Emily Bronte imagined with such poetic vividness.

'Kidnapped' On Columbia Bill
Famous Adventure Story By Stevenson Presented Today

From the world's great stories come the greatest motion pictures and "Kidnapped," which Robert Louis Stevenson considered his best, proved this axiom to the hilt today at the Columbia Theatre.

With the typical lavish hand that earmarks all the 20th Century-Fox productions which come under the watchful eye of Darryl F. Zanuck, "Kidnapped" brings an array of fine motion picture thrills to the screen in a romantic adventure story.

The story concerns Alan Breck's leading the clans in revolt against union of the north country with George III's domain. David Balfour is the lad with the unscrupulous uncle who tries to keep the boy's rightful estate by having him kidnapped.

An impressive cast headed by C. Aubrey Smith, Reginald Owen, John Carradine, Nigel Bruce, Miles Mander, Ralph Forbes and H. B. Warner appears in the film.

CAPITOL THEATRE
A mighty drama flung against an awesome backdrop, Columbia's "Only Angels Have Wings," now at the Capitol Theatre, tells a flaming story of romance and adventure.

Howard Hawks produced and directed the film, which co-stars Cary Grant and Jean Arthur. Supporting players include Richard Barthelmess, Rita Hayworth, Thomas Mitchell, Sig Ruman, Noah Beery Jr., Victor Kilian and Allyn Joslyn.

Whimsical Humor Of Mark Twain
'The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn,' Now at Oak Bay

Adventure, comedy and pathos, written as only Mark Twain could write them, mark Mickey Rooney's first solo starring vehicle in "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn," sequel to "Tom Sawyer," now playing at the Oak Bay Theatre.

The picture has caught the full flavor of Twain's whimsical humor and deep understanding of humankind. The adventures of the river boy who aids a runaway slave in an attempt to reach a free state; his travels up the river on a raft; his adventures with the rascally "King" and "Duke," a pair of crooks, are portrayed.
